Four Blazes Probed

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Four fires of suspicious origin are currently under investigation by Andover police and fire officials along with the state fire marshals office.

The blazes involve the one which destroyed the Haggett's pond barn and four prized horses of the Charles Kirk family, the Putnam family home on Charlotte Drive, the home of Richard J. Stempel at 274 Lowell Street and a new home under construction on Enfield Drive.

All four have taken place on the past two weekends.

Patrolman-Detective Donald Mooers, working with Sgt. Robert Parker of the Andover police detective division and Lt. Leo Walsh of the state fire marshal's office, said the four fires have similarities which make them suspicious. In the case of the Charlotte Drive and

Free Cash Certified At Record

There is good news in these difficult economic times.

The town of Andover has the largest certified free cash in its history, according to the figures provided the town this week by the state department of corporations and taxation.

The account totals $1,787,391, according to the letter received by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin from Gordon A. McGill, Director of Accounts.

The town manager said that to his knowledge, the highest amount certified previously was $1,118,103 in January of 1968.

The certification is for the free cash accumulated during the 18-month period ending June 30 of this year.

Enfield Drive fires, the Andover fire department quick response and ability to quell the blazes rapidly prevented serious damage.

Wragg Resigns Board, Lashes Out At Seifert

John G. Wragg

Complete Text Of Statements By Wragg,

School Committeeman John G. Wragg, halfway through his three-year term, announced his resignation Tuesday night, effective today.

Wragg cited increased travel commitments as his cause for leaving, but took the opportunity to lash out at Superintendent of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert and, in effect, call for Seifert's resignation.

State statute requires that a replacement, to fill out Wragg's remaining 18 months, now be chosen by a joint meeting of the School Committee and Board of Selectmen.

Wragg's dramatic statement, which appears on page four, came at the end of Tuesday's regular meeting before a handful of hangers-on, and appeared to stun his colleagues on the board.

Chairman Francis E. Griggs, who said he had asked Wragg to run in the first place, responded with a lengthy statement of his own, picturing Wragg as a man threatened and harassed by the administration, press and public. (Griggs' statement also appears on page 4.) He named among Wragg's accomplishments, no-smoking and homework policies,

Hill At Pumps To Be Levelled

The Recreation/Community Schools committee has reviewed preliminary plans for the new Pumps Pond bath house and approved lowering of the hill at the pond.

The committee, meeting last week, reviewed the preliminary plans with Andover Architect Archibald D. MacLaren.

There was a lengthy discussion at the session concerning the lowering of the hill and the removal of some trees.

Mrs. Rachel Graber questioned the desirability of removing the hill and trees, stressing the interest of beach users for a shaded area from which they could watch their youngsters in the water. Mrs. Graber also commented that the action would result in a change in the environment and aesthetics of the pond.

The committee felt that the town had indicated an interest in having a flat beach without the trees.

After considerable discussion, it was agreed that the hill should be lowered and those trees within the work area were to be removed.

Plantings at the end of the construction would be placed to enhance the beauty of the area.

The bathhouse plans call for

Richardson Appointed To Assistant Principal Post

By Linda S. Corbett

Stephen Richardson, who was passed over by the School Committee a month ago, in favor of a "more experienced" man, was appointed the second assistant high school principal Tuesday night.

Richardson, who had been the administration's first choice, will be offered the job at a salary of $17,500, effective immediately.

The committee also instructed Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert to take action to fill still another vacancy -- that of personnel manager -- and to recommend a new high school English Department head at the next school committee meeting.

Terrance Holmes, previously favored over Richardson by Committeemen John Wragg, John Lyons and Chairman Francis Griggs, turned down their offer to be assistant principal due to his "commitment" to the strike-worn Timberlane Regional School System (Plaistow, N.H.) where he is junior high principal.

He said he had a "professional obligation to get the ship back upright" before leaving, but left the door open for a future appointment here. He said he could be available in July, 1975, or somewhat earlier on a parttime basis.

The first Richardson motion, to appoint him at a salary of $17,500, plus the amount negotiated for this year by the Andover Education Association, failed 3-2 Tuesday night, with Committeemen William Lane and George Olesen, the "yes" votes.

However Griggs indicated that his "no" was in the salary department and he added his okay to a subsequent motion to offer Richardson $17,500. Wragg and Lyons remained the

Preparing For New Assignment

George R. Bush, right, recently named envoy to the Peoples Republic of China, by President Gerald Ford, visited Phillips Academy last Friday where he is a trustee. Bush, who was considered for the vice presidency, and was GOP National Chairman, chats informally with Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer.

China - Another Step On Goal For World Peace

(Special To The Townsman)

The nation's first Envoy to the People's Republic of China came to Andover this past week for Phillips Academy Trustee meetings.

It may be harder for George Bush to make it back for subsequent meetings, once he has taken up his post as Washington's Peking Man.

Bush, an Andover alumnus, Trustee and twice Phillips Academy parent, has been appointed by President Gerald Ford to head the U.S. mission to China. The Chinese are meant to take it as a compliment that the Envoy is a former U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, and was one of the three finalists Ford considered for the Vice-Presidential post.

Andover seems to be a training ground for the U.S. diplomatic corps. Besides Bush, the present U.S. Ambassadors to Portugal, Turkey, and Haiti all are Andover alumni, and the recent U.S. Ambassador to Japan, who now is Undersecretary of State for East Asian and Pacific Affairs. A Phillips Academy parent is the new U.S. Ambassador to Greece.

Bush was U.S. Ambassador to the UN from 1971-73, and impressed critics of his appointment with his quick grasp of international affairs, his diplomacy and perseverance. He comes fresh from 18 months as Chairman of the Republican National Committee, a position that has required, in 1973 and 1974, as much diplomatic skill in resolving conflict as the UN post.

George Bush still is trying to live down the family nickname of "Poppy" Bush that appears beside his 1942 Phillips Academy yearbook picture, but he is living up to the leadership promise of his schooldays.

He was president of his senior class, secretary of the Student Council, chairman of the student deacons of the Cochran Chapel, captain of both soccer and baseball, a varsity basketball player and a campus leader across the board of student activities in his five years at the Academy.

The new Envoy to China graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Yale, served as a Navy pilot, then left the family connections behind in the East to strike out on his own in Texas, where he built his own success in the oil business. There he entered politics, running unsuccessfully for the Senate in 1964 before he won a Congressional seat in 1966. He was easily re-elected. After trying again for the Senate in 1970, he was appointed US Ambassador to the United Nations. His appointment was initially criticized because of his lack of experience in foreign affairs, but he won praise for his careful study and quick grasp of international affairs. He was appointed in January, 1973 as chairman of the Republican National Committee just in time to inherit the Watergate mess, resisted some Republican efforts to put party campaign money behind the White House defense, and emerged intact, one of the top three candidates from whom President Ford chose his Vice President, and now Ford's choice to head the sensitive China mission.

What in your current life is of greatest interest to you? a Phillips Academy alumni questionnaire queried its graduates three years ago.

"Working to help bring peace to the world" was George Bush's reply.

Republican Candidates Here Friday

An informal meet the candidates night for Republican candidates will be held Friday at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn from 6 to 8 p.m.

Harry Axelrod, chairman of the Andover Republican Town Committee, has invited GOP candidates for state office to be on hand to meet the public in a face to face, informal session. The general public is invited, and there will be no charge.

Axelrod reports that there are no speeches planned, just a general, informal forum provided for residents of the area to meet those seeking election Nov. 5.

Scheduled to appear are Roger W. Collins, candidate for state representative, Congressman Paul W. Cronin, State Senator William Saltonstall, who represents Andover precincts five and six; Rep. Frank Hatch, Republican House leader; Josiah Spaulding, GOP candidate for Attorney General.

Lieutenant Governor Donald Dwight confirmed Tuesday that he would be on hand for the affair.

Also to be in attendance, according to confirmation received by Axelrod will be Secretary of State candidate John Quinlan and State Treasurer candidate Mrs. Erna Ballentine, who is hopeful of a spot on the ballot through stickers still being counted from last week's primary.

Axelrod stressed that the session open to all, not just Republican party enrollees, and promised no political speeches.

Badminton

The Recreation/Community Schools is sponsoring a Badminton program which will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 24. It will be held at West Elementary from 7-10 p.m.

Anyone interested can register at the class on Tuesday.

Seniors To Conduct Flea Mart

The Senior Class at Merrimack College enters the market place on Sunday, Sept. 22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. when the Class of 1975 sponsors its Fall Antique Show and Flea Market.

The Antique Show and Flea Market will be located on the parking lot between the McQuade Library and the S. Peter Volpe Physical Education Center on the college's North Andover campus. In the event of rain, the Antique Show and Flea Market will be scheduled on Sunday, Sept. 29.

With a little bit of everything from old books and furniture to rugs and racoon coats on sale at truly discount prices, the Antique Show and Flea Market will feature an extra added attraction this Fall: a penny candy booth for children. The Senior Class will once again provide a snack bar to serve shopkeepers and their customers.

Now a semi-annual event and on its way to becoming a student tradition at Merrimack, the Antique Show and Flea Market was started two years ago to bring people from throughout the North Shore and the Merrimack Valley to meet with Merrimack students. "The first one began with just 24 dealers and an attendance of 500 people, but the word must have spread as last year's Spring Flea Market brought 97 dealers and about 1850 people to campus," said 1974 co-chairperson Jack Genest of Cohoes, New York.

Abatement Period Is Extended

Under the Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 60A, application for abatement or refund on Motor Vehicle Excise Tax has been extended from June 30 to December 31 of the year next succeeding the year to which the excise relates.

Example: taxpayers who wish to apply on 1973 bills have until December 31, 1974. Taxpayers who wish to apply on 1974 bills have until December 31, 1975.

Red Cross Volunteers Are Busy

Andover Red Cross volunteers have worked many hours this summer providing water safety instruction and assisting at bloodmobiles. Under the supervision of Red Cross trained instructors there were water safety programs at 36 private pools as well as Phillips Academy, Cronin's Swim School, Deer Jump, Camp Evergreen, Camp Nokomis, Lawrence Boys' Club, Pomp's Pond and Girl Scout Camps, Sacajawea and Merrymeeting.

A total of 690 certificates were issued.

Mrs. James E. Christopher, chairman, Andover Water Safety and the following other instructors were active: Dave Bova, Helen Belluschi, Kathleen Maxwell, Meri Hanson, Carol Caputo, Cheryl Foster, Jane Anthony, Bevolyn Oliver, Joan Johnson, Elaine Kent, Sherry Tupper, Marilyn Fitzgerald, Eric Christopher, David Connors, Kathleen Mackey, Martha Lucius, Elizabeth Bernard, Marcia McQuade, Pat Saalfrank, Stewart Barlow, Millian Salyers, Elaine Mahanke, Claudia Cronin, Marilyn Cronin, Pam Darby, Karen Lemone, Francis Mullen, Judith Hamilton, Greta Gulezian, Gail Der Anonian, David Silva, Meryl Hallbach, Louise Rosse, Richard Valle, Martha Manley, Valerie Kitchen.

Richard H. Mower, Andover Blood Program Chairman, reports that between June 1 and Sept. 1 volunteers manned 13 bloodmobile visits, an average of one a week. 1063 pints of blood were collected. Congratulations are in order for the employees of Raytheon who gave 696 of these during August alone.

You do not have to be somebody special to be a Red Cross volunteer. Call the Chapter office and offer to help.

Panel On Handguns Tonight

Is there a need for further limitation on the sale and possession of handguns?

Aside from police, security officials and collectors and members of licensed gun clubs, who else should have them?

A discussion of this very moot question will be held at the Andover Memorial Hall Library on Thursday, Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The panel will include the Police Chiefs of both North Andover and Andover, Chiefs Joseph Lawlor and David L. Nicoll. Also on the panel will be Dr. Lebaron Colt of the Gun Owners Action League (GOAL) and Atty. Dangerfield Perry of the People vs. Handguns.

A discussion from the audience will be held. All interested people are asked to attend.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Andover and North Andover League of Women Voters.

Wragg Resignation Statement

"A sharply increased travel schedule, initially across the U.S. and Canada, will prevent my attendance at many upcoming meetings. It takes considerable time to sort facts from vested positions and develop a reasoned approach to improving a school system desperately in need of strong, unbiased administrative guidance. Clearly, with heavy current and upcoming long distance travel commitments, I will have insufficient time to perform this task as I believe the majority of Andover's citizens expect and deserve.

"I take this action with considerable regret partly because it terminates the warm relationship I have established with you and with John Lyons, partly because it puts an end to the things we have been able to accomplish jointly and partly because it leaves many things undone. Of the warm personal relationship I shall say nothing, but I think we can take a justifiable pride in those things we were able to do in the face of determined and unprincipled opposition from the Superintendent of Schools.

"Looking at the past 18 months of my stewardship with these two men, I find many of our objectives have already been accomplished or initiated. The more important ones are:

"1. Forcing - - and I choose that word with care - - the release of achievement and college board test results from a reluctant and obstructionist administration.

"2. An upgrading of administrative personnel to initiate a turn-around in system performance.

"3. Introduction of a policy book into the system to direct a superintendent that refused to acknowledge the mandate of the Town for improved education at lower cost.

"4. Achievement of a 12 per cent reduction in the school portion of the tax rate from $34. per thousand to $30. per thousand.

"5. Introduction and passage of policies which accent academic basics, the need for hard work for high achievement, increased concern for the health of our young people, improved discipline reversing a five-year permissive trend, and reestablishment of the School Committee's right and power to select people who can deliver high academic quality.

"I would be less than candid if I stated all my objectives had been met.

"Still unresolved are three matters of concern. One of these was discussed under executive session rules, but should now be aired. These matters are:

"1. A return to a proven quality mathematics curriculum which would upgrade our performance, particularly at the elementary level, from the dismal results of the past few years to the 70th percentile range in which Andover properly belongs.

"2. Sharply improved English communication skills, especially at the secondary levels.

"3. A continued upgrading in the quality and relationship with the administrative staff. In recent months, I have reluctantly come to the opinion that a key step toward this end must be the removal of an uncooperative Superintendent who appears to be committed to a single educational philosophy and who has:

"a. demonstrated his dislike and contempt for the majority of the current school committee through words and attitude.

"b. threatened the School Committee with legal action if his organizational desires were not followed.

"c. dragged his feet and fought nearly every significant policy change the school committee majority wished to implement.

"d. stated that like the Chinese dictator Mao he would never leave Andover and would see this Town kick us under its feet.

"e. taken the Andover school system on a downward slide of unacceptable proportions as evidenced by achievement and College Board test results.

"I firmly believe that, without tenure previously granted in a moment of great disservice to Andover, this man would have been removed months ago for either insubordination or inefficiency or both. Tenure and the law, however, make such action extremely messy without the concurrence of the man. The Town and media are obviously aware that the current situation is antagonistic, and productive only when the School Committee forces action on the Superintendent by its power of vote. This is, in my opinion, an unacceptable situation. Considering all the above, I therefore firmly believe that the best interests of the Town of Andover would be served if the Superintendent resigned.

"In closing, I believe that current and future Andover School Committees will improve Andover's system in years to come - - but it will take great effort and, perhaps, an unpleasant event or two to achieve this end. The effort is worth it - - because high quality education for our children is at stake. The unpleasantness, much of it unnecessary, must be borne - - because the committee is entrusted with facing tough decisions and sometimes making unpopular choices for the good of our students.

"I leave this committee with regrets, and with the highest regard for an outstanding chairman and civic leader, Dr. Frank Griggs."

Chairman Griggs Statement

"You may or may not know or maybe some of you may have suspected, that I was one of the individuals that wanted John originally to run for school committee and I did that based on the fact I knew John to be a clear thinker. Her perceived the problems of the school system the same way that I did and most importantly, he was a man who was willing to stick his neck out and fight the system, so to speak.

"There are many reasons he didn't include in his reasons for resignation, one of which was that during the election in which he was ultimately victorious, he was probably subjected to some of the most vicious rumors in recent memory.

"The press has been constantly negative to him as an individual and to the committee in general. The audience at many school committee meetings has been at many times belligerent, frequently discourteous, often antagonistic to many of the members of the committee, but most particularly to John Wragg. I think the administration indeed has been hostile.

"What many of you may not know is that by taking on this unpaid job, John's reward has been many telephone calls, mostly anonymous, to his wife and himself, making threats on his life and talking about harm to his physical being. This has recently culminated in the fact that both Mr. Wragg and Mr. Lyons have had their houses pelted with eggs and have had garbage thrown in their lawns. Coupled with all of this kind of action, we have been saddled with what I call a 'garbage law suit' which consisted of time-taking depositions, much time in court, and recall petitions questioning our right to serve and his quality of performance. All of these factors are a little much to ask of an individual who was trying to serve the town in a non-paying job.

"John Wragg has decided that it's probably just not worth it. I think that everybody else on the committee on occasion probably thinks the same way.

"I think that John's accomplishments in his 18 months have been significant. I think his policy book, which he did single-handed, will serve as a guide for the school system for many years to come, and I think he will continue to work with the school committee in suggesting policies. I think that the smoking policy he fostered and pushed at the high school last year was remarkably successful, and in no small measure thanks to John and his financial backing. I believe that John has been a champion for the cause which I espouse, which has taken the name of 'back to basics movement,' and it has been vigorously moved by his actions and statements to implement such a program. I surely believe the public disclosure of all the system's test results has been a step forward and in the long run will be an advantage to the entire school system.

"The homework policy which he was very instrumental in, along with Mr. Lyons, I think will also serve the system well in the long run. In the area of budgetary controls, there is probably not a man on this committee who spent more time working on budgetary matters and in trying to get the best education for the least amount of money for the Town of Andover. His suggestions on how to monitor budgetary and monetary outflows have been significant.

"I guess what John did wrong when he came on the School Committee - - and to a certain extent that's what I did wrong too - - was to go against the phrase that 'to get along you should go along.'

"I think John saw certain things wrong and said 'I will fight to right those wrongs,' and in so doing, he made a lot of enemies, because he wasn't mild or meek in doing this. But one thing you have got to say about him, he did it up on the stage in front of everybody with all the people sitting in the audience, anonymously snickering, poking, laughing and making bruhahs all over the place. He did do it in the open. If you disagree with him, that's fine - - that's your right - - but he had the guts to get up on this stage and state his opinions.

"So as a friend, I am very sorry to see John Wragg leave office, for I trusted his counsel and valued his friendship and I think the town has suffered a significant loss."

Richardson

negative votes.

Richardson has been head of the business department at Andover High, and worked during the summer on scheduling, in the absence of an assistant principal. He holds a masters degree in business education from Boston University and will complete his M.Ed. degree in administration from Salem State College upon completion of two more courses. He was principal of the secondary summer school in 1973, and has participated in development and presentation of the high school budget.

The newly created personnel job had been offered to former assistant superintendent Edward Regan on a temporary basis over the summer, but he did not accept. It had remained unfilled, apparently in case Regan did come back to the system via litigation. He has tenure here as an elementary principal.

Also still pending is the case of William Becker, who was stripped of his English Department head title at the same April meeting Regan was demoted.

In other personnel action, the committee accepted the resignations of Mrs. Esther Campbell, a reading specialist at Bancroft since 1969; Mrs. Deborah Plass, parttime teacher aide at West Elementary; and Mrs. Blair Woodman, teacher aide in the media center at East Junior High since 1969. Kenneth Maglio resigned as assistant football coach at East Jr. High.

The committee also made 11 elections and appointments, and named six coaches for the fall term.

Mrs. Shirley Guild was elected school nurse, replacing Mrs. Penkus and Mrs. Elizabeth Serbagi, who have been transferred to the Chapter 766 program. Mrs. Guild received her R. N. from Melrose Hospital in 1950, and most recently has been a substitute nurse in Andover schools, as well as a volunteer for the Andover Red Cross. She was an industrial nurse at DASA in the summer of 1970, a parttime private duty nurse from 1957 to 1972, and was a supervisor and head nurse at Melrose Hospital from 1950 to 1953.

John Rice will be a guidance counselor at West Jr. High, replacing Mrs. Deacon, who was transferred to Chapter 766. Rice received his B. A. from Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., in 1969, and his M.Ed. in counselor education from the University of New Hampshire in 1971. He taught math at Berwick (Maine) Academy for the past two years, and English and math in a Fitchburg junior high during the 1971-72 school year.

Mrs. Mildred Twomey will teach in Loft 4 at Bancroft, replacing James Doherty who transferred to West Elementary. She received a B.S. degree from Salem State College in 1953 and was a substitute teacher here from 1972 to 1974. She previously taught Grade 5 in Arlington.

Mrs. Ruth Baer will be a parttime L.D. teacher-tutor at Bancroft, replacing Mrs. Boudreau, who resigned. She received a B.S. degree from Framingham State College in 1961, and was Andover's Reading Linguistic and L.D. Training Program in 1973 and '74. She was a substitute teacher in Andover last year, a volunteer at West Elementary from 1971 to 1973, and a fourth grade teacher in Newton from 1961 to 1965.

Mrs. Margaret Bainbridge will be a teacher aide in the East Jr. High media center, replacing Mrs. Blair Woodman who resigned. She attended Barnsley Tech College from 1950 to 1953 and Guildhall School of Music from 1953 to 55, and was a nursery supervisor at the Willows Raquet Club, North Andover, last year. She was a

Melville Chapin

Andover Native Trustee

Melville Chapin of Cambridge has been elected a Charter Trustee of Phillips Academy. The election of the Andover native was reported by Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer, clerk of the board of trustees, at the beginning of the new academic year at the coeducational Phillips Academy, known as Andover.

Chapin, a partner of the Boston law firm of Warner and Stackpole and chairman of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, was an Abbot Academy Trustee from 1969 until the 1973 combination of Abbot and Phillips into a single academy. As chairman of the Abbot Trustees' committee on coeducation, Chapin was instrumental in arranging details of the merger with trustees of Phillips. He became a term trustee of Andover in early 1973. The new Andover Trustee's leadership in community service and educational endeavors is extensive. He is chairman of the United Community Planning Corporation, which plans the allocations of United Way funds, and is chairman of the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. At the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, he also heads the Building Fund.

Chapin, an alumnus of Andover, Yale, Harvard Law School, served in the U.S. Naval Reserve in World War II. He is a member of the American, Boston, Massachusetts and International Bar Associations. He is national vice chairman of the Harvard Law School Fund, president of the Cambridge Foundation, treasurer and trustee of the Conservation and Research Foundation, director of the Chewonki Foundation, and trustee of the Frederick J. Kennedy Memorial Foundation.

Andover Trustee Chapin and his wife, the former Elizabeth Ann Parker, are Cambridge residents. His father, the late E. Barton Chapin, was for years president of the Abbot Academy Trustees. The Chapin home in Andover was given to Abbot Academy by his widow, the late Jeanette T. Chapin.

Chapin House served first as an Abbot dormitory, now is dormitory for the experimental Andover Short Term Institutes, four and six week intensive academic residential institutes for public school students and teachers on the Phillips Academy campus.

Meeting On Montessori At Library

Schools have existed historically to teach children to observe, to think, to judge. Montessori introduces children to the joy of learning at an early age and provides a framework in which the intellectual and social disciplines go hand in hand.

In brief, the Montessori approach is designed to help the child build within himself the foundations for a lifetime of creative learning. In a rapidly changing society this objective becomes evermore important. A love of learning and confidence in self as an independent learner are prerequisites in a world of constant change.

Where can you learn more about Montessori?

Parents interested in preschool education have formed a parent study group in Andover. A meeting will be held Sept. 27, Friday, at 8 p.m. in the hall of the Memorial Hall Library, Elm Square, Andover.

There will be a lecture and discussion of Montessori concerning the preschool age child. Ms. Joyce Schrier, directress of the Boston Children's School, will discuss the Montessori philosophy and Ms. Jane Mack, directress of The Lexington Montessori School, will discuss the Montessori method.

Warrant Units Are Scheduled

The town warrant will be discussed at two meetings sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Among the articles that will be discussed are:

1. Amendment to the Town By-Laws to provide for a recall election.
2. Increasing the size of the School Committee from 5 to 7 members serving two-year

(instead of present three year terms).

3. $31,000 to continue MBTA train service to Andover.

4. $2250 for Home Care Corp. to serve senior citizens.

Tuesday morning, Sept. 24 the meeting will begin at 9:15 a.m. at the home of Joyce Robinson, 50 Wildrose Dr. Babysitting is available for the Tuesday meeting. Contact Linda Carpenter, 74 Argilla Road at least two days before the event.

On Thursday, Sept. 26, the meeting will be at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Fran Hughes, 13 Lockway Road.

The public is invited to attend the meetings.

State Rep Campaign To Intensify

Atty. Gerald Cohen

Atty. John P. Cronin

Roger W. Collins

The battle for Andover's representative seat in the state legislature got underway in earnest this week, with all three candidates on the campaign trail. For Atty. Gerald Cohen, victor in the primary a week ago for the Democratic nomination, it meant a continuance of his campaign work begun this past summer in his race with Philip Coppola. For former Selectman Roger W. Collins, unopposed for the Republican nomination and Atty. John Cronin, who bypassed the primary altogether as an independent candidate, the campaigning to win voter appeal begins to build in intensity as the Nov. 5 election date approaches. Cohen will resume his campaign activity today (Thursday) with some input committee meetings with his workers and on Friday will be back at the familiar door knocking and telephoning of Andover voters to present his message. He said he plans to draft three or four issues that he feels Andover voters should be concerned about during the coming days of the campaign. Cohen said that he had been spending some time in Boston at the State House studying bills in the legislative hopper and in his meeting with Andover voters will be attempting to impress upon them the need for bringing a business approach to government, something he feels he can accomplish based on his years of business experience. Collins, who has been campaigning actively for some time for the new All-Andover seat, reported this week that with the primary now out of the way, his work will intensify. He began last weekend by making the door-to-door visitations, concentrating on the West Andover area to start, meeting residents in the Greenwood Road, Dean Circle and Sherwood Forest area, as well as visiting some new areas in South Andover. Collins said he was telling the voters of his interest in continuing to serve the town at the state level after being a selectman here for several years. He feels his experience at the local level would serve the town well if they support his candidacy in November. He feels that among major issues of the campaign involve taxes and the state's reputation as "Taxachusetts." He said he has been trying to impress voters on the need for a Republican representative in a state that is now a one party state, offering no system of checks and balances. Atty. Cronin, has been campaigning on bicycle through several sections of West Andover. The Committee to Elect Cronin is planning a fund raising reception to meet the candidate for Friday, Oct. 4, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Andover Country Club. George Chilone, chairman, has announced that tickets may be obtained at Hughes Pharmacy, 16 Main St., or at John Cronin Headquarters, 68 Main St., above the Co-Op.

Cronin, in his effort to get to all parts of the town has initiated a bicycle campaign, noting that some sections of town are sparsely settled and difficult to cover in a door-to-door campaign. He said his effort is to get to all parts of the town, to afford all voters of the community the opportunity to meet and talk with the person interested in becoming Andover's state representative. All of the candidates will be having coffees in various parts of the community between now and election day. Candidate's nights and other public forums will be offered for the candidates to present their message to the voters, who for the first time in recent memory will have the opportunity for single town representation in the House beginning in 1975.

Concert Programs Announced

The content of all three Youth Concerts at Boston's Symphony Hall has been announced. On Saturday, Nov. 9, at 11 a.m., the program will include Beethoven's Leonore Overture, a Bach Brandenburg Concerto and a first performance on "Night Voices" by David Epstein. The Boston Boy's Choir will be featured in a work by Hanson. On Saturday, Jan. 24, the theme will be "Dance Music," and excerpts from Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite," Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake," Offenbach's "Gaité Parisienne" and Copland's "Billy the Kid" will be performed by members of the Boston Ballet. Other selections will be Brahms Hungarian Dance No. 5, a Bach Double Concerto and two Ragtime selections. The third program of this year's series for children will focus on "Bicentennial USA" on Saturday, March 1, with works by Copland, Roy Harris, Leonard Bernstein, Ellington, Ives, and the finale of "Stars and Stripes Forever" by John Phillip Sousa, played by members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Harry Ellis Dickson. A group will leave from North Andover's Old Common by chartered bus again this year, at 10 a.m. and returning by 1 p.m. on the dates stated above. Information on ordering season tickets may be obtained from North Andover Town Chairman, Mrs. James Plant, 50 Glencrest Drive.

Friday Feature Film Program

Memorial Hall Library announces another season of outstanding feature films beginning on Friday, Oct. 4 at 7:30 p.m. and to be presented on subsequent Fridays through Nov. 8. The first movie will be the great thriller, "The Third Man," directed by Carol Reed and starring Orson Welles. Program coordinator is Cynthia Johnson of the library staff and all films are open to the public at no charge.

Weekend Hours

Another reminder to our patrons that the library is now open on weekends. On Saturday the hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Library Opera Club

Sept. 24 is the date of the first meeting of the Library Opera Club at which time Wagner's "Lohengrin" will be played. New members are cordially invited to attend this session to be held at the home of Mrs. Lotte Bertheim, 226 Hampshire St., Methuen at 8 p.m.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Two new classes are beginning at The Haven next week. The morning of Sept. 23, at 9:30, there will be a limbering-up class conducted by instructors trained by Pam Grover of the YWCA. The class is designed for both men and women. Each participant is urged to wear loose clothing and bring a small rug. Reservations are not required - just come!

The other class will commence Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 24, from 1:30 to 3:30 and will be a beginners oil painting class taught by Mrs. Charlene Dalton, neice of Mrs. Frances Dalton, well-known local art teacher. There will be a fee of $1 per session of the class. Bring with you any art materials you may have. The instructor will advise those who do not have any during the first session. It is stressed that since this is a beginner's class you do not need to know anything at all about oil painting. You need only the desire to try a new experience. Grandma Moses did not start out as a child, remember!

Reservations are still available for the Fall Foliage trip Oct. 10, but they must be spoken for by Oct. 8. The trip will include lunch at The Old Mill. Total cost including lunch is $7.

Do not forget to call in to The Haven to make your appointment for the mini-clinic next Monday afternoon, the 23rd from 2 to 4 p.m. This health service is free. You need only to make an appointment. The next session will be Oct. 8 at Chestnut Court. You may make your appointment now for that date, too.

A few places still remain for the Hawaiian trip leaving Nov. 1. Call The Haven for further information (475-3968).

column we will present interesting facts - some familiar and some little-known - about Memorial Hall Library. We believe that our patrons should know more about our facilities and resources and thus add to their usage and enjoyment. In effect we will be blowing our own horn.

So watch for the heading "Did You Know That..." - we hope you will find it stimulating and informative.

Children's Room News By Jan Johnson

Saturday, Sept. 28 is the grand beginning day for our fall series of programs. Children in grades one, two and three are welcome to join us for informal arts and crafts from 10:30 - 11:30 that morning and on alternate Saturday mornings thereafter. You Can Do It is a special kind of crafts class because you will be asked to bring something each time. For Sept. 28 please bring an egg carton of the molded plastic or fiber kind. Watch this spot and posters in the children's room to see what you'll need each time. Of course you can bring your friends every time.

That afternoon all children who want to come are invited to a Sing-Along in the children's room at 3. We'll be sharing our favorite songs and learning some new ones too. We plan to have Sing-Alongs from time to time throughout the year; come and make this one a smashing success.

VIBOR will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 1 at 3:45 p.m. VIBOR is the Very Important Board of Review; a group of fourth, fifth and sixth graders who meet once a week to read and review the new books received by the library. VIBOR also helps the librarian decide what books to buy for the children's room. We need interested people. Come to our first meeting.

Co-Ordinator

Office for Children Director David S. Liederman has announced the appointment of a Marblehead resident as the Office's statewide coordinator for Chapter 766.

Craig McGarvey, 27, of Liberty Road, will assist local school systems in implementing the new special education law, Chapter 766. This law requires all public schools to provide services that meet the special needs of all children.

A graduate of Villanova University and Boston College School of Social Work, McGarvey has previously worked as a court clinic staff member with the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health.

We thank all the voters in Andover who gave us the opportunity to appear on the November Ballot.

We will work sincerely to merit the confidence you have shown in us.

Congratulations to Betty Jo and Phil Coppola for the fine campaign they conducted before the Primary, and particularly for their sincere and heartfelt comments after the returns were in. They proved to be winners to us.

We all look forward to meeting with you personally in the coming weeks.

Very sincerely, The Cohen Family.

James D. Doherty, 9 Juniper Rd., Andover, Mass.

The women of the area are once again invited to broaden their horizons through the activities of the Women's Center. Ms. Helen Allen, directress, has developed a variety of programs aimed at satisfying the needs and fulfilling the interests of the women in the area.

Beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 25, the Women's Drop In will be open at the Unitarian Universalist Church at 244 Lowell St., Andover. The Drop In will be open every Wednesday from 9 to 12, and this year babysitting for preschoolers is being provided. The Drop In is available to any woman who would like to get together over coffee with other women to find out more about the world and our part in it. Each week there will be information presented and informal discussion on such varied subjects as vegetarianism, self defense, and pending state and federal legislation.

Once a month there will be a book read and discussed. The first program will be a talk by Ms. Naomi Shertzer, assistant coordinator of continuing education at Northern Essex Community College, and will pertain to women going back to school. The year's program is flexible and open to the suggestions and interests of the group. For further information, call Ms.

Paula Macdonald.

There will be an evening book discussion group meeting once a month. The discussions will be led by Ms. Naomi Boces. Books being read and discussed will be for, by and about women. There will be a section on sexism in children's literature. Some of the authoresses being considered are Carson McCulloch, Mary McCarthy, and playwright, Lillian Hellman; however, the program is not yet firm, and more information will be available later.

Ms. Mary Gendler will be starting Women's Therapy Groups in October. Ms. Gendler has trained in Gestalt, Bio-Energetic, and Fantasy therapy methods.

The Women's Center will also be having a Little Girl's Feminist reading and discussion group for girls age six to ten. The children will be read stories, including some classic fairy tales, and talk about the female roles in the stories.

Once again, the Women's Center will be starting and guiding Consciousness Raising Groups for those interested. Anyone interested in these or any other of the activities can call Ms. Helen Allen.

Y Registration To Begin

While Full Privilege Memberships are being required for most gym and pool programs at the new Andover-North Andover YMCA building, Basic and Affiliate members are eligible to enroll for numerous programs held elsewhere and basic members may enroll for non-physical courses at the new building. Coverage of the several membership classifications is detailed in the YMCA Fall Term Program folders which have been widely distributed and may be obtained at the YMCA office in the new building.

The following activities, which start the week of Sept. 30 unless otherwise indicated, are open for registrations beginning Friday on a first come basis. All registrations must take place at YMCA office except that St. Augustine enrollments only will be accepted at the Brook St. YMCA building, at the time of the first gym class for each child.

Programs being conducted at the North Andover YMCA building (Community Center) as the coordination with the new building gets under way, include Ballet and Tap Dancing for girls, Kindergarten through Grade 4, Beginners and Intermediates Ballroom Dancing for Adults, Square Dance instruction for Beginners and Intermediates in Grades 5-7, Fencing for Adults and High School youth. Also using that facility for ongoing programs are: the 65 Plus Club, the Family Kindergarten Inc., Judson Memorial Chapel and YMCA Teen Dances for North Andover High School youth.

Scheduled to meet at the Brook St., Andover YMCA building are bowling for boys and girls grades 1-4, Beginners' Guitar and Finger Picking for children grade 4 and over and adults, St. Augustine's School gym classes for boys and girls grades 4-8, Girl Scout Weaving and Basketry (Oct. 28), and several special courses restricted to Raytheon employees.

At Phillips Academy: Tutoring for boys and girls Grades 1-12, Tennis Instruction for Youth Grades 6-12 and Tennis Instruction and Informal Play for women (tennis starts the week of Sept. 23), Boys' Soccer League Grades 4-6, Women's Paddle Tennis Instruction and Informal Play and Ice Skating for Pre-Schoolers and Women starting week of Nov. 12.

Operating out of the new building will be: Women's Hiking, Women's Climbing, Women's Bicycle Jaunts, and the Outing Club for boys and girls in grades 4-9. Interested Outing Club parents will hold a planning meeting at the new building on Tuesday, Sept. 24, 7:30 p.m.

Bowling Leagues will be conducted at the Andover Lanes for a.m. women, for grades 5 and 6 youth and grades 7-9 youth.

Helen M. Eccles

Appointed Information Officer

Helen M. Eccles, Tucker House, Phillips Academy, a TOWNSMAN reporter since 1967, has been appointed Public Information Officer of Phillips Academy.

Mrs. Eccles became associate editor of the Alumni Bulletin for the Academy and editor of the new Parent Newsletter last year, and this month leaves the TOWNSMAN staff to become the Academy's public information officer.

She joined the TOWNSMAN staff in 1967 to cover education, general news and features.

The Phillips Academy Alumni Bulletin, under the editorship of Development Officer Richard Sheahan, recently won the Time-Life Achievement Award for Improvement among the university, college and school alumni magazines of New England. The award was made at the annual meeting of the American Alumni Council.

Open House At College Oct. 6

Merrimack College opens its doors to the public when the North Andover college hosts its annual Open House on Sunday, Oct. 6 from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Open House will offer parents and friends of students, prospective students, Merrimack alumni, and the general public the opportunity to visit the North Andover campus and to observe the academic and physical development of Merrimack College during the past twenty-seven years.

Last year's Open House had an attendance of over 1200 people with some visitors coming from New York, Connecticut and Maine.

In announcing the 1974 Open House, Merrimack College President, Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A. said: "Merrimack College is pleased to present itself to the community for inspection. The Open House provides high school students who may intend to apply to Merrimack with an excellent opportunity to visit our campus, to discover the academic programs and activities available to Merrimack students, and to talk to many of the students themselves."

"We think that last year's Open House was a definite factor in enabling Merrimack to experience a 16 per cent increase in our freshman class in this era of declining college enrollment," said Fr. Aherne.

During the coming Oct. 6 Open House, the McQuade Library, the S. Peter Volpe Physical Education Facility, and the Student Union Building as well as other academic buildings, student residence halls and town houses will be open for public inspection. Guided tours of campus will be conducted throughout the afternoon by Merrimack College students.

Faculty members from twenty-one academic areas of study offered at Merrimack as well as representatives from the Division of Continuing Education will be available for consultation with prospective students, their parents, and area residents.

West PTO Sets Goals For Year

The first meeting of the West Elementary School PTO was held on Sept. 12. It was an organizational meeting at which the goals for the coming school year were set up. A calendar of events was established with all activities scheduled being pupil-parent centered.

The following people make up the executive board: Carole Yanalfo, president; Steve Duly, vice president; Barbara Curtis, treasurer; Carol Schwetz, secretary; Barbara Nolin, ways and means; Myra Brooksbank, publicity; Mary Funari, hospitality; membership, Darleen Sohler, co-chairperson, Joyce Casaceli, room mother coordinators, Mildred Nicastro and Rachel Thompson; communication, Linda Desmaris co-chairperson, Anna Bedrosian; teacher representatives, Virginia

Spinney and Doris Weinberg; PTO advisory board, David Ahouse and Donald Donahue; school committee representatives, Joseph Baglio and Gordon Wood; volunteer coordinator, Barbara Nelligan.

Credit Courses

Lowell Technological Institute President Everett V. Olsen has announced additional accreditation of two L.T.I. Evening School programs.

Civil Engineering Technology at both Associate and Baccalaureate degree levels was accredited by the Engineers Council for Professional Development, Inc. based in New York.

The two continuing education programs were accredited through Sept. 30, 1978 and are offered by the Lowell Tech College of Engineering.

Reports for 36 states on the status of women in the labor force and related characteristics - age, education, marital status, family income, the percentages of working mothers and family heads, and occupations - are available from the Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210.

Congressional Race Opens

The campaign for Congress in the Fifth district got off to an official start this past week, with Congressman Paul W. Cronin making an official announcement of his candidacy for re-election at a press conference Monday at the Sheraton Rolling Green in Andover. Democrat Paul Tsongas of Lowell held a conference Friday in Lowell, following his primary victory last Tuesday. In left photo, Cronin is shown announcing his candidacy at which he said he would debate with Tsongas, if the latter agreed to subscribe to the principles of the Fair Campaign Practices Code.

Bancroft PTO Plans Supper

The Bancroft PTO will hold the first general meeting of the school year on Tuesday, Sept. 24 at the school cafeteria. The meeting, under the direction of PTO Program Chairman Mrs. Nancy Muldoon will feature a spaghetti supper.

The dinner will be prepared by the Andover School Food Services Department under the guidance of Richard Barron, new director.

Following the dinner, Dr. Harry Westcott, new associate superintendent of Andover schools will be the speaker.

The Bancroft PTO membership drive will begin Friday, Sept. 20 and continue throughout the following week. Chairman of the drive will be Mrs. Barbara Swift, with 40 Bancroft mothers assisting to insure that every family will be visited. The mothers will be distributing the school handbook, along with collecting dues during their visit.

Dr. Fredrick Wallace, PTO president, has written the handbook in co-operation with Principal John Coyle.

During their visitations, the mothers will be taking reservations for the Tuesday supper, and picking up the index cards forwarded earlier.

Wrestling Program Offered

Members of the Andover-North Andover YMCA may participate in an amateur wrestling program, expected to be but the beginning of an expanding mat program. The new facility boasts a physical program room which houses a 40' x 40' mat suitable for wrestling as well as many other physical activities; floor exercises in gymnastics, fitness classes, tumbling, judo, and yoga, to mention a few.

This beginning program includes instruction for boys in grades 4-9 on Tuesdays 6-7 p.m. under instructor David Davies, and a class on Thursdays 8:15-9:15 p.m. for high school boys and men under instructor Newt Machen. Men and boys interested in learning the basics of amateur wrestling or wishing to improve upon skills already possessed will find the help they need. Welcome also will be individuals interested in wrestling as training for self defense or for development of physical fitness, with no desire to get into competition.

David Davies wrestled for Bay Shore High School in New York and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute in New York. As a post-collegiate amateur wrestler he won the Connecticut State YMCA title and coached at the Stamford and Greenwich YMCAs.

Newt Machen has served for 25 years as wrestling instructor, coach and Wrestling Committee Chairman at the Lawrence YMCA, wrestling center of the New England area.

He won a New England YMCA title and coached New England Championship teams too numerous to mention.

Paper Fire At West School

Youngsters were apparently responsible for a fire in some carbon paper at the West Elementary school Monday, which brought the Andover fire department to the scene.

Fire officials reported the fire caused little damage, and that the small blaze was probably a prank, but that school officials should be on the alert.

The Andover Fire Department responded to the following alarms between Sept. 10 and Sept. 16.

Sept. 10 - 65 Haggetts Pond Road, C. Kirk, hay pile.

Sept. 11 - 50 Colonial Drive, faulty alarm system; 70 River

St., Mass. Electric wires.
Sept. 12 - Bartlet St., W. Kelly, Car fire; 40 Colonial Drive, D. Toibb, oven fire.

Sept. 14 - 136 Andover St., E. Connor, light ballast; Greenwood Road, owner unknown, overheated engine; 47 Bailey Road, J. Brouillard, building fire.

Sept. 15 - Grand View Terrace, Town of Andover, faulty alarm system.

Sept. 16 - Enfield Drive, N. Milton, building fire.

The Andover Fire Department ambulance responded to fourteen calls during the same period.

What Our Readers Say-

Her World Is Shattered

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

My world seems to be shattering, recreationally anyway.

First the YMCA brochure explains (I read it three times) that in order for my two daughters and me to swim together in the new pool this year, we will have to pay either $75 for me and $50 for each of them, a total of $175 or $200 for a family membership. So I'll have to limit my aquatics to the bathtub.

Worse, much worse, two days later, I'm hit with the news that the Poms Pond hill is being leveled and the trees on it cut down -- that sanctuary on a hot, humid day, where I can escape, children in tow, for my very short vacation is being turned into a flat hot beach, just like all other flat, hot beaches in the world.

No! I can't stand it. Improvements I can understand -- a new bath house would be lovely -- new sand, even -- great -- clean water, perfect.

But what's wrong with a hill? What has Andover got against trees? Where will I swim?

Well, as I say, progress is progress is pushing me over the brink -- or out of the swim. I'm going to scream. No, I'm going to walk out into the water and never return. On my gravestone they can inscribe "The Y can build a pool, but only God can make a tree."

No! I know, I'll tie myself to one of the trees when the bulldozers appear. Anyone want to join me?

On The Recall

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

It seems agreeable by all hands that a government needs reasonable brakes, by way of bylaws, for use by the voters just as does an automobile for use by the driver. However, upon reading the "Recall" Article for October town meeting (Townsmen 8-12 Issue) it seems effort should be used to try to provide an evenhanded and efficacious bylaw in this instance.

One designed mostly to give voters, especially those who stayed home last time, an opportunity to second guess those who did their duty is not to be relied upon. So as a started toward reasonableness, the following is suggested.

An elected official shall be subject to a recall vote within four weeks after a presentation to the office of selectmen a petition containing the certified names of residents not less in number than 35 per cent of the total voters in the last election for the purpose of filling the office sought to be subject to recall.

Should the total vote cast for recall equal or exceed 100 per cent of the vote cast for the official, subject to the recall, in the most recent election, the official's service shall be terminated in not more than 5 days after the election.

Until the next annual town meeting, the vacated office shall be filled as follows: The names of ten people or less who applied for the office within three days after the election which made the office vacant, and who have been residents of the town for the immediate 7 years, and who have a record of having voted at least 5 times during the past 7 years in town elections, and whose name did not appear on any petition seeking the recall shall be placed in a hat. Thereupon a name shall be withdrawn to determine who will serve until the next annual election. This shall take place within ten days of the recall election.

Now returning to the entire bylaw, it seems agreeable that whatever its form a clause should be incorporated that states that the bylaw shall not take effect until 60 days after the annual election of 1977. (A proposed amendment shall be placed before town meeting to this effect) Otherwise, in spirit at least, adopting such a bylaw now would have most of the aspects of a post de facto law. Nobody in Andover, I'm sure, wishes to be associated with such a long discarded method of Dark Ages politics.

On The Schools

Letter To Andover School Committee:

Dear Dr. Griggs:

At a recent school committee meeting Mr. Olesen said "I would like to see the Andover school system get moving again." A school administrator in rebuttal said he though the system was moving and that everyone was doing a fine job. The audience, made up primarily of administrators and faculty, applauded dutifully and on cue.

There is no doubt in my mind that the system is moving - the point at issue is in which direction? All the objective criteria we have underscore the steady and pervasive decay of the system's performance over the past five years. It is frustrating indeed to witness an administration either unwilling or unable to cope with this reality; and beyond that, the administration's recalcitrant posture against publication of test results which document such decay. I am thankful that the school committee insisted on publication of the test results which led to the revelation of our system's sorry performance.

What about the tests and how do they affect a parent and taxpayer? Stanford achievement tests over the past three years have shown a steady downward trend in grades one through nine. The college boards - a standard and accepted measure of scholastic excellence - show a startling decline over the past five years for our junior and senior high school students. For example, the drop in national averages on the verbal portion of the boards was seventeen points since 1969. Andover scores sank by forty-one points over the same period - a drop of two and one half times the national average. On the verbal achievement tests the national average went up three points - a modest enough gain - but Andover's average declined fifty points over the same five year period - hardly a modest loss. There may be some who will argue that skill in communicating effectively in English, and the ability to read with good comprehension are not basic to the student's intellectual development, but this is a point of view I do not share.

What about some of the other basic areas? In Mathematics Achievement the national point variance since 1969 was minus one, but the Andover point variance was minus twenty-six. In American History the national average dropped seven points from 1969 to 1972, but Andover's average dropped thirty-six points in one year. The Andover average in Chemistry dropped fifty-five points, and the average in Biology dropped fifty-three points in 1973 alone. These, unfortunately, are the sad facts. Such results provide grim testimony to the total failure of the new individualized programs, open concepts, relaxed discipline and slackened student work loads that earmark the sum total of this administration's educational achievements. It is irresponsible of administrators to declare publicly and blatantly that the Andover school system is moving forward, and that everything is just fine in the face of such damaging and contrary evidence.

Andover citizens need to be made aware of this unhappy performance of a school system into which they have poured millions unstintingly. When Committeeman Wragg made his presentation of college board test scores several weeks ago the press took perfunctory notice - an abdication of journalistic responsibility. Sadly, the newspaper's interest and consequent emphasis dwells on sensational and emotion laden events occurring on the educational scene rather than objective examination and analysis of cold hard facts. Administrators who look the other way when embarrassing test results pop up should know Andover grows more curious daily about the sub-standard performance of our school system, and the full impact of that curiosity will be felt in the future.

There are administrators who think the system does well, or they ignore test results, or believe the test results are irrelevant, or think the problem will disappear if they wish hard enough, but the tough facts are we have not done well, and we are not doing well in educating our young people. Those administrators who busily manicure one another's egos need to take a good hard look at what has happened to Andover education during the past five years.

Andover has for the most part a very dedicated and capable teaching corps, but the leadership, the administration, must bear responsibility for past performances, and it must now implement the necessary changes for improved future performance.

In light of their attitude, the administration appears not to recognize the serious problem in Andover education, or if it does, it is unable or unwilling to mount imaginative and effective counter measures. The administration has the responsibility to improve academic performance and it ought to accept that responsibility now, and end the obstructionism that puts survival ahead of the education of our young people. It is hoped that recent new administrative appointments by your committee will help to alter this posture.

As a taxpayer and parent I am thankful that the school committee recognizes the problem. I have confidence in your ability and determination to reverse the downward trend in academic performance. I realize that the elevation of educational standards in Andover will not be accomplished overnight; however, a beginning is being made.

I support the policies you are initiating to get Andover moving toward positive, measurable results in our schools. Please keep up the good work and ignore the pious indignation of a few administrators and faculty who cherish illusions concerning the quality of their performance as educators.

First Social Of Season At Austin

The Friends of Austin Preparatory School of Reading will begin the new school year by presenting their first social, "Get Acquainted Night" on Saturday evening, Sept. 28, from 8 p.m. until midnight at the school.

Highlighting the evening will be a complete baked ham dinner, served at 8:30 p.m. and dancing to the music of Frank Gentile and his Orchestra.

The Friends of Austin invite everyone to come and bring their friends. All proceeds will benefit the educational and activity programs at Austin Prep.

Because past Friends of Austin dances have been complete sellouts, tickets should be purchased or reserved early. Tickets cost $6 per person, advance sales only. Tickets may be obtained by calling Austin Prep in Reading at 944-4900.

A record number of Americans -- almost 4.3 million -- were "moonlighting" in May 1973, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The Northern Essex Community College Racquet Club will sponsor an open tennis tournament at the college campus in Haverhill on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 11, 12 and 13. Coordinators of the tournament are Mrs. Usha Sellers and Marshall (Jack) Hess, N.E.C.C. faculty members.

Events scheduled are men's singles, men's doubles and ladies doubles. Six plexi-paved courts are available at the college and USLTA balls will be provided. Trophies will be awarded to all finalists.

Applications are available at the college from Hess of Mrs. Sellers. Entries will be accepted through Oct. 4, 1974.

The October event is the first in a series of annual tennis tournaments planned by the college. Rain dates for the tournament are October 18, 19 and 20.

Girls Gym Team Forming At YW

The Greater Lawrence YWCA is starting a girls' Gymnastics Team on Sept. 30. The YWCA will be preparing for competition later on during the year.

Try-outs for the team will be on Monday, Sept. 23, and Friday, Sept. 27, at 4 p.m. The team will be open to girls from the ages of 8 to 17.

For more information, call the Gymnastics coach, Mrs. Pam Grover at the YWCA.

Awards Presented At Windup

Trophies and certificates were awarded recently at the final gathering of the St. Robert's Girls Cadette Softball team.

Judy Girard was awarded the most valuable player award, Denise Ahern, best sportsman, and Joanie Veilleux, most improved player.

Others recognized for their talents were Linda Griggs, batting average of .791, Peggy Alexander for assists or putouts against 50 opposing players during the season, Ann Coelho, Lisa Peters and Beth Moynihan, also were honored for their assistance to the team which had a 5-4 season record.

The St. Robert's team defeated teams from Billerica, Lowell and Andover, and lost decisions to Haverhill, Lawrence and the Tewksbury All Stars.

The girls entered a tourney in Haverhill and bowed after two losses. Doubles by Denise Ahern, Beth Moynihan, a triple by Lisa Peters and a homer by Judy Girard, couldn't top the performance of the Haverhill All Stars in that contest.

Denise Ahern went four for four against the Lawrence Sluggers in the last game of the tournament and Lisa Peters has two for three.

The team has extended its appreciation to the St. Robert's Men's Club for their financial assistance, Don Valenti, photographer, the umpires, who volunteered much of their time and patience and the parents who provided transportation to the team.

Receives Top Ski Award

Ed Hostetter, 128 Argilla Road, Andover, has been awarded the prestigious Russell Wilder Memorial Award given annually by the United States Ski Association (USSA) in recognition of the year's most outstanding activity in focusing the interests of American youth on the sport of skiing.

Hostetter was recognized for his work as chairman of the Buddy Werner League of the Eastern Ski Association (ESA). The Buddy Werner League is a ski racing program for boys and girls under 14 that teaches the fundamentals of competitive skiing with emphasis on team competition rather than individual performance.

The award was presented to Hostetter by USSA first vice president, Robert Thomson, Carlisle, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern Ski Association held in Brattleboro, Vt. The ESA is one of the nine divisions of the USSA.

The award was established in 1955 in memory of Russell Wilder, Long Branch, N.Y. who was active in junior skiing programs within the Ski Association when he was killed in a car-train accident.

Each year all nine divisions of the USSA present a candidate for the award to the USSA selection committee. The committee investigates each name and presents a pared-down list to the USSA board of directors for final selection.

The Eastern Ski Association has had six winners in the 19 years since the award was established, including the first award to John Holden, active in skiing in Western Massachusetts in 1955.

Exercise Class

A women's health and exercise class will be conducted at the Jewish Community Center, Lawrence. The exercise class to music, will be held Mondays and Wednesdays from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. The classes are followed by sauna and steam baths. Babysitting is available.

Monday classes will begin on Sept. 23, Wednesday sessions on Oct. 16. Further information may be obtained from the center.

By Rick Harrison
With a tremendously successful pre-season now history, the 1974 Andover High football team launches its regular campaign this Saturday with a 1:30 p.m. road game against Pentucket Regional.

The Golden Warriors, defending Merrimack Valley Conference champions, enter the opening game riding a two-season winning streak of 17 straight games.

The last regular-season loss was to Wilmington in the first battle of the 1972 schedule, and during the past three years AHS has dropped only three games.

Final Scrimmages
Coach Dick Collins' crew wrapped up preparations for Pentucket by stinging Middlesex League teams Burlington and Wakefield in successive scrimmages last week.

"We were razor sharp against both clubs," reported Collins. "I just can't say for sure whether our offense is simply that good, or if Burlington and Wakefield weren't quite prepared for us."

Andover operates out of a patented attack known as the "run-and-shoot," and it isn't seen very much in high school circles.

"I've never coached a team that has looked this well offensively so early in the season," commented Collins. "Not even last year's team, and we walked all over a few opponents by big scores in scrimmages in 1973."

Getting down to specifics, Andover outscored Burlington 7-1 or 42-6, and followed that with a 4-3 or 24-18 decision over defending Middlesex League co-champ Wakefield.

When the first units were playing against one another, Andover topped Burlington 4-1 and blanketed Wakefield, 4-0. All three Wakefield touchdowns were registered when the second teams were in for both schools, and Wakefield is favored to win the Middlesex crown again.

"We were extremely hot against Wakefield, as our first team scored four times in one half," related Collins.

"Glenn Verrette caught two more touchdown passes, and in four scrimmages he scored seven times," related Collins.

"Bill Alexander had the other two TDs by the first team. Both came on short runs, but he was running over people and looked very strong," lauded Collins.

"No. 1 quarterback Jeff Winters continued his accurate passing, hitting 12-of-14 attempts against Wakefield. He finished the pre-season with nine touchdown passes," revealed Collins.

"As far as the defense goes, the kids are really hanging in there. Our first unit allowed only two scores in the four scrimmages. But that's a little deceptive because they were only playing about half of each game. We're not physically big defensively, but we are quick," reiterated Collins.

Not Overconfident
Coach Collins tempered his enthusiasm slightly at this time.

"While we are certainly delighted so far, we also hope that the kids don't leave all that excellent football behind them when the regular season starts," he explained.

"We feel the talent is there, particularly at offensive end and in the backfield, but now we'll have to see if the kids can rise to the occasion. It's quite different playing in a scrimmage and then before a large crowd. Most of these kids haven't had the latter experience yet, so we'll see how they do when the chips are down," noted Collins.

"One thing I don't fear is overconfidence, particularly against Pentucket. The veterans from last year remember Pentucket well. After we won two scrimmages very big, Pentucket beat us 2-1 (one TD on a blocked kick)," observed the veteran skipper.

"That's one factor to keep in mind, and these kids simply aren't the type to get over confident. Not in the first game, anyway," laughed Collins.

Pentucket Evaluated
Pentucket finished the 1973 season with a superb 8-1 record, including a big victory over Newburyport late in the season that spoiled that club's aspirations for an undefeated year.

Babe Ruth Tryouts At Playstead Sunday

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team will conduct a pair of informal tryout sessions on Sunday, Sept. 22 and Sunday, Sept. 29. Both workouts will be at the East Junior High Playstead Field, running from 1 p.m. to approximately 3 p.m.

All Little League graduates and any other boy between 13-15 who will not turn 16 prior to Aug. 1, 1975 is invited to try out.

Coaches Rick Harrison and Fred Serley will supervise the workouts for the Andover team, which recently completed a successful season in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League. The locals were 15-6 during the regular campaign and 19-8-1 overall.

The 1975 team will not be chosen until after a second set of tryouts next Spring, but the Fall sessions are also important in the final selection of players.

A number of extra-curricular activities are in the works for next year's team, including another trip to Montreal, possible journeys to New York and participation in several tournaments.

"They are traditionally as well-coached a team as we'll ever face," praised Collins.

"Tom Flaherty is a veteran coach, and every time I've seen his clubs they are extremely aggressive and well-drilled."

"I understand they're in about the same boat as we are this year. They lack experience and size, with most of their front liners having graduated. It should be an interesting matchup," added Collins.

Starting Teams

The Golden Warriors first string starting offense against Pentucket will feature Glenn Verrette at right end, John McDonald at right tackle, Bill Kenney at right guard and Dan Billings at center.

The left guard slot will be filled by either Ralph Borelli or Russ Tassanari. Borelli will get the nod if he's healthy, but he missed the Wakefield scrimmage with a sprained ankle and it's still somewhat tender.

The halfbacks will be Brian Flannery and Eosefow, with either Verrette or Stamas at safety.

Stamas will go deep if he's healthy.

MVC

The nine-game Merrimack Valley Conference season opens Sept. 28 against Wilmington.

The Wildcats are a perennial powerhouse, winning six Conference titles in the past 12 years, but AHS has prevailed in two of the most recent three meetings.

Three years back it was 11-0 Andover, while two years ago the Wildcats won a wild 33-27 contest and last season it was Andover, 13-8.

Austin Prep and Billerica are being touted around the league as the teams to beat - on paper.

18 To Assist Program At Salem State

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 19, 1974

Ms. Ingrida A. Mangulis of 36 Kirkland Drive, Andover, and Professor Edward D. Meaguer, 53 Elm St., Andover have been named coordinators in Salem State College's Open College Program (SSOC) now in its third consecutive year.

The Open College, a relatively new educational concept first developed and tested in Great Britain under the name "The University of the Air," is designed to allow students of many ages, with varying backgrounds, interests, and objectives, to work towards bachelors' degrees in a non-traditional context, at speeds suited to their respective needs.

The SSOC Program, which was inaugurated in November of 1972, employs a variety of educational materials and methods - including T.V. broadcasts, tutorials, tapes, independent study, and occasional seminars - as alternatives to classroom attendance.

This year, SSOC will offer its more than 45 students two new advanced courses of study, "Foundations in Social Science" and "Foundations in Natural Science" in addition to its core curricula, "Foundations in the Humanities," a multi-disciplinary program which examines subjects as diverse as language among the Yorba of Africa and Mendelssohn's rediscovery of Bach; and "The Age of Revolutions," a program which examines the nature and inter-relationship of revolutionary movements in politics, philosophy, literature, art and industry. SSOC will get underway in October.

Those faculty chosen to act as tutor-counselors in the fields of art, literature, economics, English, history, chemistry, biology or philosophy, were picked on the basis of their demonstrated competence in their respective fields, as well as their ability in group dynamics.

Ms. Mangulis, one of whose many specialties is art history with emphasis on Italian painting and sculpture, holds a BFA from Mass. College of Art and a M.A. from Rosary College.

Mary Ann DeBolt

Receives Fellowship

Mary Ann DeBolt, a doctoral candidate at the Catholic University of America, will complete her final year of study for a degree in material science with a fellowship from the American Association of University Women. The fellowship will cover her expenses, including tuition, for the 1974-75 term.

The American Association of University Women annually awards fellowships to women who are in their final year of doctoral study or working on professional post-doctorate degrees. Ms. DeBolt is one of 80 women selected this year from among 867 applicants.

Ms. DeBolt, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. DeBolt of 79 Wildwood Road, Andover, received both bachelor of electrical engineering and master's in Chemistry degrees from CU.

The Catholic University of America in northeast Washington, D.C. is a liberal institution granting bachelors, masters and doctoral degrees. Founded in 1887 by U.S. bishops, the university today has 6,500 graduate and undergraduate students in 10 schools.

A new Communication Arts Center housing one of the most well-equipped theaters on the East Coast and an innovative law school program enabling students to complete their bachelors and law degrees in six years are some of the university's features. Catholic U.'s membership in the Washington Consortium of Universities enables students to enroll in courses and use the facilities at seven other D.C. institutions.

Fall also means fog. Don't get lost in it by forgetting to turn on your car lights. Shut them off again when parking to avoid a rundown battery.

Receives Scholarship

Bernard M. Edelstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Edelstein of 1 Glen Cove Road, Andover, has been awarded a one year $500 college scholarship from the Zayre Foundation.

Bernard, a 1974 graduate of Andover High School, will attend Brown University.

Now in its fourth year, the Zayre Foundation Scholarship Program is one of the few scholarship programs offered by retailers and is open to full and parttime employees of Zayre Corp. with one year of continuous employment; children of full or part time employees with one year of continuous employment; and children of retired or deceased employees.

Repairing
Of Route 93
To Begin

The State Department of Public Works will start resurfacing and paving both the northbound and southbound roadways of Route I-93, from Reading to Andover, Commissioner Bruce Campbell has announced.

The first section of the nine-mile resurfacing project will begin in the northbound roadway at the Route 128 interchange and run northerly through Woburn, Wilmington and Tewksbury to a point beyond the Dascomb Road ramp in Andover. Work on the southbound roadway will follow shortly.

The work on both roadways of Route I-93 will take at least two months to complete, the commissioner stated. He added that a minimum of two adjacent lanes of traffic in each direction will be open to traffic at all times.

Conservation Theme For New Phone Books

New England Telephone will begin distribution Sept. 24 of some 86,000 copies of the new Lawrence directory, and in efforts to conserve paper, will be delivering one directory for every residence telephone customer.

Local telephone manager Allan McPhail said the new telephone books will have listings for customers in Lawrence, Andover, and Salem, N.H.

The new directories features a color photograph of Rude Bridge in Concord on the cover, with a Minuteman Statue in the background.

McPhail said the delivery should be completed by Oct. 3.

"The company has been distributing only one directory to each residence customer since February," McPhail said. "Previously we had delivered directories based on the number of telephones in a given residence. This paper-saving program will result in a reduction by at least 10 percent of the number of phone books printed this year."

"We made this move," the telephone manager said, "because the company has received increasing numbers of requests from customers in a number of locations to cut down on distribution, and because studies at four Bell System companies have shown most people feel that more than one directory per home is wasteful, needless, and ecologically harmful."

McPhail emphasized that anyone who wants additional directories can obtain them by calling the number on a card attached to each directory.

"I want to stress that those who want additional directories will have no trouble getting them. We just want to cut distribution of needless telephone books that many customers simply throw away."

The Bell System expects to print 19 million fewer directories this year, a savings of approximately 20,000 tons of paper - or more than the number of directories needed to serve the entire state of New York.

The Lawrence area directory is just one of 92 different telephone directories delivered to New England Telephone's five-state operating area.

Over the past year more than 11 million directory copies - amounting to about seven billion pages - have been issued.

This phenomenal production job is accomplished through the teamwork of 1,000 directory department employees headquartered in Lynn.

The manufacture of today's directories is a highly complex process involving one of the biggest printing jobs in the United States.

Telephone directories are put together bit by bit, listing by listing - built up page by page, carefully with hundreds of processes involved before final distribution.

Production has come a long way since 1878 when the first telephone directory was issued in New Haven, Conn. At that time a single six-by-nine inch sheet of paper listed 50 customers.

In those days there were no telephone numbers and a caller simply told the operator the name of the party he wished to speak with. Customer listings were conveniently classified under seven different categories including "residences," "meat and fish markets" and "hack and boarding stables."

Today's directory is a regular reference book.

In addition to customer listings and numbers for fire, police and emergency services, a reader can refer to time zones of the United States or postal Zip codes.

Everything a customer needs to know about placing a long distance call can be found on the ensuing pages - including the best and cheapest ways to call.

Guidelines on how to deal with annoyance callers make up another section of each book.

Area telephone numbers can be obtained fastest by looking in the modern, easy-to-use directory. Yet many unnecessary calls are made each day for directory assistance.

One telephone company has begun charging for directory assistance calls on the basis that a small percentage of customers were responsible for the vast majority of these calls and were being subsidized by the average customer.

Folk Dances Featured Wednesdays

Folk dancers in the Andover area and people who'd like to try international dancing are invited to North Shore Folk Dance from 7:30-10 p.m. every Wednesday in Salem.

The group, largest north of Cambridge, now meets in the Old Gym, Sullivan Building, at the Lafayette St. corner of the Salem State College campus (at the traffic lights.)

Conny and Marianne Taylor are the professional instructors, known for their Cambridge classes and for their annual October dance weekend in Stowe, Vt. They play only authentic music. Dances are repeated frequently so a newcomer may start any week. No partner is necessary. The group attracts men and women of all ages and from a wide area, as well as Canadian and out-of-state tourists.

Bob Says:

Just finished reading "The Sting", from the movie of that name, and we marvelled over the execution of the perfect sham. The gambling business doesn't have an exclusive on fraud though - it happens every day in the copying business. We just cleaned up a five-year-old Savin copier that was sold as a "demonstrator model" about one year ago. It showed the effects of thousands of copies, and had been repainted, to boot. It's easy to make a machine look good, because the average buyer is only concerned about getting a copy when he pushes the "print" button.

That's why we're the logical company to deal with - we guarantee our products and our labors, and we'll give you the straight facts on anything we sell. Some day we may just meet on the outside and we want you to be glad to see us; you're liable to tell someone else that you got a square deal from Copilabs.

We'll be happy to make copies for you at our downtown offices. Either wait while we make 'em, or leave the work here if it's a big job. The cost is reasonable, and a good copy is guaranteed; up to 11" x 17".

Whose Ballgame

Private meetings among those serving in the public sector are to be shunned and are considered illegal, based on a Superior Court finding handed down this week.

Judge Paul K. Connolly, in a ruling, said that School Committeemen John G. Wragg, John F. Lyons and George F. Olesen had acted illegally in meeting in private to decide on action to be taken relative to deposed Asst. Supt. of Schools Edward P. Regan and High School English Dept. Head William Becker.

The finding followed a suit brought by Committeeman William L. Lane.

We trust this will close out a portion of the legal proceedings dealing with school department business. Judicial appeal will only draw out the matter to what will result in the age old childishness of owning the baseball and leaving the park if you can't pitch.

Secret meetings by public officials are illegal, of course.

Aware of the scope of the open meeting law, we also recognize that elective or appointed officials may chance to meet on occasion, either by accident or design, and discuss municipal business, a matter the court also recognized in its findings.

We doubt seriously that Mr. Lane, who brought the action, has not on occasion during his school committee term, and even during the current controversy, been completely within the scope of the law his court case sought to determine.

Thus, it seems the school committee and all public bodies should be well aware of the need for openness in their deliberations.

Hopefully, this part of the "ballgame" is now over.

Mr. Lane has won a point, but it does not gain back for Mr. Regan his post as assistant superintendent, or Mr. Becker his department head post. That portion of the majority action of the school committee was legal, even if their preliminary discussions of the matter were not.

There seems little sense in continuing the attempts to win political points at the expense of the school system and the town.

The Park

We take heart in the move by the selectmen last week to afford local police with sufficient tools, so-to speak, to make The Park, and other town owned recreational property truly public and safe.

The board unanimously approved the strengthening of local bylaws which now prohibit possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in public parks under their jurisdiction.

What seems even more important, is the fact that the selectmen have agreed to support bylaws at the annual town meeting next year which will prohibit public drinking throughout the town.

Such bylaws were included in the warrant for the town meeting this past year, but withdrawn. General feeling was that the selectmen, as park commissioners could control the problems caused the town by youths.

Subsequent events, particularly the need to station a police officer at The Park, at a cost of $60 per night, to maintain order and control, have proven the need for more stringent action.

The need for an overall bylaw for the town is apparent, just from the events of this past summer.

Stationing of a police officer at The Park cured the problem there, but the restless youths, who have been granted a privilege, (drinking at 18) they can not apparently cope with, moved on to other areas.

Even the present reinforced park regulations will not solve all the problems, since the youths will keep on the move, until such time as the police are armed with the enforcement tools needed to maintain control in all parts of the town.

This the proposed bylaws to be presented to town meeting next year will do.

We agree with the Bartlet street resident who told the selectmen a week ago that it was unfortunate that all youths in the community were made to suffer for just a few.

But, we just happen to think that Andover police are discretionary enough to use their powers and when needed.

They truly need the enforcement powers which will be provided by the public drinking bylaws and we pledge our support to provide them with that ability.

Blanks

It seems strange that in last week's primary election, the Democratic contest for state representative in Andover drew 242 blanks.

The particular contest is an important one in Andover this year, which for the first time in history is to have its own representation at the State House.

There were two well-qualified candidates who campaigned hard for endorsement as the party nominee for the seat.

But when the ballots were cast, there were 242 Democrats who bypassed the particular contest.

We would think that the voters would have taken the moment to cast a ballot for one or the other candidate.

Some theorize the voters were interested in other contests, or possibly even other candidates for the November election in the representative race.

It still seems, however, that this being a strictly local contest, the blanks were far too many.

Off The Top Of The Desk

One consolation about New England sports, when one professional team goes bad or lets you down, another steps right in.

Such is the case this week as the New England Patriots got their season off to an auspicious start Sunday against the Miami Dolphins, while the Red Sox were digging their pennant hopes deeper into the standings.

We don't look for the Pats to be in the Super Bowl this year, but after Sunday's performance they certainly should provide some exciting gridiron fare for New England fans.

An official of the Electric company informs us that those cards dealing with information on how to economize on air conditioners, were placed in the mails beginning in July, with some customers just getting them due to the two-month billing cycle.

We had commented on the value of such information arriving in September a week or two ago in this space.

The official also noted that it was surprising how many air conditioners are still being purchased in this area.

Some people in North Andover recently were surprised to see a church steeple being transported down the Main street. It was the large white spire of the St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic church, formerly the First Methodist church at the intersection of Main and Water streets.

The steeple was removed during the exterior improvement of the church which includes the installation of white siding.

High school cheerleaders of the future in North Andover are getting ready for another season of junior football action.

The young ladies have been going through their exercises at St. Michael's school parking lot in anticipation of the junior football league season which opens on Sunday at Hayes stadium.

Mind over matter apparently can provide one with some particular ocean delicacies, according to information published in the publication issued by the Mass. Department of Natural Resources.

In an article dealing with over-exploited and under-exploited species of protein-providing fish, the department points to such underwater specialties as dogfish and squid as frowned upon here, yet quite popular elsewhere.

The dogfish, for instance, is a small shark, but Norwegians and Germans enjoy the tender white meat it provides, and the English they say, use it extensively in their popular "fish 'n chips." It is suggested that a change in name to something like "rock salmon" which one fish dealer did quite successfully will make dogfish more palatable.

Another item which sounds revolting is squid, but is very popular in Italy as "Boston Calamari." In this country squid is popular among some ethnic groups. Gourmets report it may be tastily served if cut in strips, sauteed in sauce or fried in batter.

The Regional Office of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has announced its sponsorship of an environmental photo program for amateur photographers in New England.

The program is designed to capture on film New England's pollution problems. It is called the "Dirty Picture Program" and will last from Sept. 15 - Nov. 15.

The program is open to all amateur photographers in New England. EPA is seeking black and white and color pictures that dramatically record areas that are in need of pollution abatement and environmental cleanup.

The EPA hopes that these photographs will serve as a stimulus to bring about improvements. They will also serve as an educational tool by graphically demonstrating the need for continuing programs of environmental protection.

Certificates and plaques will be awarded to the outstanding entrants. Judging will be done by a panel to be selected by the EPA.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - September, 1899

The change in location of Poore Street in Frye Village, petitioned before the county commissioners by Tuttle and Morrison, having been approved, the work began this week. A gang of men began digging out the gravel to provide the new roadbed.

Phillips Academy opened Monday with about the same enrollment as a year ago. There are about 150 boys enrolled who heard Dr. Bancroft deliver the opening day address.

A passageway has been built connecting the new art gallery at Memorial Hall with the stairway. Already a number of fine paintings have been hung which will be well worth viewing when the area is thrown open to the general public.

A new pair of fire department horses were exercised by driver Frank E. Morse on the hook and ladder truck Monday morning.

William M. Wood has decided to move the barn on his property to a position several hundred feet closer to his farm buildings in the rear. His gardener's house will be moved across Main street to land recently purchased from Tuttle and Morrison.

50 Years Ago - September, 1924

The school committee met in special session this week at the new Shawsheen school and were assured that it will be ready for occupancy Oct. 3. The $200,000 cost will include finish grading.

Rev. John A. Nugent, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's parish, quietly observed the 24th anniversary of his ordination this week.

Miss Helen B. Walker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William D. Walker of Main street sailed from New York Saturday for Liverpool, England for a year of study. She is a Bryn Mawr graduate.

Pipes have been placed to the North school and faucets are being placed this week so that pupils there will now be supplied with town water.

A.A. Reusch, the local Ford dealer, has purchased the new house on Walnut avenue being completed by Edward P. Hall.

25 Years Ago - September, 1949

The town will be paying 2.92 per cent of the Essex County tax this year. The Andover assessment is $51,551 this year compared to $40,742 a year ago.

The school committee this week interviewed three candidates for the junior high school principalship. No decision was made following talks with Bernard J. Kellmurray, Kenneth A. McKinniry and Benjamin F. Dimlich.

Tyer Rubber Company business volume has tripled in recent years. The investment made in machinery and equipment since World War II has paid in the development of fine rubber goods products at the local plant.

Louis S. Finger, president of the Andover Savings Bank, has been elected second vice president of the Massachusetts Savings Bank Association.

Ten of the new mercury vapor lamps have been installed in Elm Square by the Champy Construction Co. of Lawrence and the Lawrence Electric Co.

10 Years Ago - September, 1964

Members of the planning board, health board, selectmen and Reichhold Chemical company meet to discuss pollution problems in the Shawsheen River in Ballardvale.

George DeVries presented plans to the planning board Monday for a 41 home development off Wildwood Road.

Raytheon Company is the town's top taxpayer with a bill of $117,634 on an assessment of $3.5

Kol Nidre Service To Usher In Yom Kippur

Yom Kippur, the most important day on the Jewish religious calendar begins Wednesday Evening, Sept. 25. Kol Nidre Services at Temple Emanuel, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence, will begin at 7 p.m., ushering in this 24 hour period of fasting.

Yom Kippur conveys not a mood of mourning, but rather one of seriousness. The Kol Nidre chant sets the tone for the day of fasting and soul-searching. More a legal formula than a prayer, it expresses the idea that man's plans and promises, no matter how earnest, cannot always be fulfilled. In the coming year - as in the past year - promises made to God and to the worshiper himself may be wiped clean from the slate. However, those commitments made to one's fellow man are not so easily eradicated; this is an issue between man and man. The Hebrew word chet is usually translated in English as 'sin.' This translation, however, does not carry the precise message of the Hebrew. Chet was originally an archer's term, used to indicate "missing the mark." Such is the Jewish concept of sin - the missing of one's

The Tribes Of Israel

Rabbi Harry A. Roth of Temple Emanuel, Lawrence, admires "The Chagall Windows," depicting the original 12 tribes of Israel. The needlework, done by the ladies of the Temple was hung during the observance of the High Holy Days this week.

goal, the losing sight of our higher aspirations. Among those "sins" spelled out for the congregation are sinning through word of mouth, abuse of power, disrespect for parents and teachers, exploitation of one's neighbor.

The most poignant moment of the day comes in the Ne-ilah Service, the very last moments of Yom Kippur as the sun's shadow gradually covers the earth. "Thou desirest not the death of the sinner, but that he return to Thee and live. Wide open are the gates of Thy forgiveness to all who truly seek to be reconciled with Thee," says the Union Prayer Book.

"Trusting in Thy gracious promise, we have come before Thee, O Father, conscious of our guilt, yearning for Thine altars of peace. Condemned by the judge within us, we reflect sorrowfully on a life misused and filled with regrets, on opportunities neglected and resolves come to naught," the liturgy continues.

Then, as in a final reminder, the great call of the Shofar is sounded, and the Yamim Noraim come to a close.

Sherman Seeche, past president of Temple Emanuel will sound the Shofar as he has for the past years. Services will be conducted by the Temple Rabbi, Rabbi Harry A. Roth in conjunction with the Temple Cantor, Irving Shuman. The choir, coordinated by Thayer Warshaw with Mrs. Joan Maynard at the organ will participate as well.

Together with Howard Ponty, the Temple Emanuel president, the following individuals, residents of the Andover area, will also participate in the Service. Mrs. Joel Labell will read the traditional blessing for the Festival Candles as president of the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood. Mrs. Irving Newman will participate through the reading of a special prayer during the Martyrology Service commemorating the periods of Jewish history which have been remembered because of their tragic circumstances.

In addition, Robert Goldberg, president of the Temple Emanuel Brotherhood will participate in the Kol Nidre Service and Neil Mufson the president of the Temple Youth Group will do a special reading which he wrote during the Yom Kippur Festival Service on Thursday, Sept. 26th. Jay Goodman and Barry Levine will read the portions of the Torah during the morning and afternoon services.

Kol Nidre will begin the Yom Kippur Services at 7 p.m.; Wednesday, Sept. 25 and Yom Kippur Day Services throughout the day on Thursday, the 26th, concluding at 6 p.m.

Getting nowhere fast is the feeling many people live with today. Those who have already bought a home know that they have at least one possession of value—an investment they can call their own. And they have a goal to work for since each and every mortgage payment puts some money into their pocket. It's still not too late, for anyone. Be it ever so humble and not exactly the home of your dreams, get your foot in a door now. It's the start that counts, a first step to independence and peace of mind.

Symphony Bus To Resume

The Boston Symphony Bus will begin on Friday, Sept. 27 its series of 22 trips for the '74-'75 season, taking concert-goers from the Greater Lawrence area to the Friday afternoon concert series of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The morning departure, with several convenient stops in the Boston area, allows passengers time for shopping, visits to museums, or luncheon with friends before the 2 p.m. concert.

The bus will leave from Salem Street, Andover, opposite the Phillips Academy Bell Tower, promptly at 10 a.m. Going to Boston, the bus will make the following stops: 1. Arlington St. near Boylston (subway connections to all points) 2. Huntington Ave. at Prudential Center 3. Symphony Hall 4. Museum of Fine Arts.

The return trip will be from in front of Horticultural Hall on Massachusetts Ave., 15 minutes after the concert ends, and will be non-stop to Andover.

There are 22-trip and 11-trip subscriptions to the bus available, and subject to space on a given Friday, individual tickets may also be purchased.

Anyone interested in using the bus should contact Miss Ruth Hayes, Phillips St., Andover.

The bus, now beginning its fourth year of operation, is sponsored by the Andover-North Andover Friends of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Progressive Dinner For Newcomers

The Newcomer's Club of Andover-North Andover, is making plans for a progressive, pot-luck dinner on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Three courses - cocktails, dinner and dessert - will be held at various homes in the two communities. Each couple will also be assigned to bring a dish.

Reservations must be made by Oct. 9, with Mrs. Joseph Daly of Andover, chairman of the affair, or Mrs. Walter Hatcher of North Andover, reservations chairman.

Membership in Newcomers is open to new residents of the towns for three years, commencing with the first payment of dues. To be included in the 1974-75 directory, dues must be paid before October 1 to Mrs. John Hess, 659 Waverly Road, North Andover, or Mrs. Ralph Rockwood of Andover.

Wild Flower Classes Begin

Two classes beginning this week and held at Nature Center, Garden - in - the - Woods, Hemenway Road, Framingham. A four week series of Wild Flower Identification begins Saturday 10-12 noon, Sept. 21. Mrs. Robert A. Demers
Demers - Peterson

At home in Andover, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alan Demers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald O. Peterson of Plaistow, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Demers, 16 Marland St., Andover.

The bride is the former Darlene Elizabeth Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald O. Peterson of Plaistow, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Demers, 16 Marland St., Andover.

The Rev. Michael Griffen performed the 1 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Alice Hinchcliffe was organist and soloist Estelle Moreshi sang the themes from "Love Story" and "Romeo and Juliet."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length empire gown of nylon organza, with a chiffon overlay and long, chiffon sleeves with lace cuffs. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap with seed pearl trim and an attached floor-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations, yellow roses and ivy.

Sandra Peterson attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a mint green gown with white picture hat, and carrying a colonial bouquet of daisies and green-tipped carnations. The bridesmaids wore lemon yellow gowns with white picture hats and bouquets of daisies and yellow carnations. They were Amy Peterson, the bride's sister; Iris Weissman; Diane Demers, the groom's sister; and Yvonne Archambault.

The groom's niece, Aimee Demers, and the bride's sister, Heather Peterson, were flower girls, wearing green dotted Swiss gowns with white eyelet pinafores. They carried baskets of daisies.

Mrs. Peterson chose a shrimp-colored gown with white accessories for her daughter's wedding, and wore a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother wore light blue gown, also with white accessories and white roses.

Arthur Singlais was best man, and ushers were Peter Mullett; Theodore Demers, the groom's brother; Gerald Peterson, the bride's brother; and David Tallini.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple took a wedding trip to Maine.

The new Mrs. Demers, a graduate of Timberlane Regional High School, attended Worcester State College and is employed by Western Electric.

Her husband, a graduate of Andover High, is a utility man at Western.

Book Review For Hadassah

Greater Lawrence Chapter of Hadassah will hold its first meeting of the year today, Sept. 19 at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Linda Tober, 121 Hidden Road, Andover.

Highlight of the afternoon will be a book review presented by Freda Schlesinger, distinguished national board member of Hadassah and world traveler.

New members are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Robert D. Wisecarver, Jr.

Wisecarver - Downs

At home in Andover, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert David Wisecarver, Jr., who were married August 17 at the Church of Christ the Teacher, Merrimack College, North Andover.

The bride is the former Kathleen Downs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Downs, 147 Elm St., Andover, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Joseph DeNuncio of Lawrence and Robert D. Wisecarver of San Diego, Calif.

The Rev. Francis Horn performed the 11 a.m. chapel ceremony. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons and pink carnations, and Keith Gould of Andover provided organ music, while Jerry Kates of Norwood was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk crepe gown with Venice lace appliques, empire bodice and long, puffed sleeves. The A-line skirt flowed into a chapel train and her elbow-length mantilla veil was edged with Venice lace and attached to a matching Camelot cap. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pink miniature carnations, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Barbara L. Downs attended her sister as maid of honor wearing a blue flowered, princess style gown of organza, with a wide ruffled skirt and bell sleeves. She carried a basket of blue and white carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were another sister, Lesley J. Downs of Andover; Mrs. Ralph Grieco of Lawrence; and Donna St. Germain of Andover. They wore pink flowered gowns to match, and carried baskets of pink and white miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Joseph C. Tringali of Lawrence was best man, and ushers were John Dixon of Methuen, William Kelleher of Tewksbury and Robert S. Towler, Jr., of Methuen.

Mrs. Downs chose a gown of petal pink crepe, with jeweled neckline and long, chiffon sleeves, for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses and white baby's breath.

Mrs. DeNuncio wore a blue and white flowered gown of organza, and a corsage of miniature blue and white carnations and baby's breath.

A reception followed at the Andover Country Club, and Gina DeNuncio, the groom's sister, attended the guest book.

The new Mrs. Wisecarver graduated from Andover High School and the University of New Hampshire, while her husband is a graduate of Lawrence High and Bridgewater State College. He is employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., in Andover.

After a wedding trip to Vermont and the White Mountains on New Hampshire, the couple is making their home in Andover.

Whether or not Daylight Savings Time is extended again this year, it still gets darker earlier as the winter months approach. Don't forget to put on your headlights at dusk.

PREPARING INVITATIONS. Members of the Council of Friends of the Boston Symphony Orchestra were busy early this month preparing invitations to the two series of stage door lectures held prior to the Friday concerts and the pre-symphony suppers planned for the Tuesday and Thursday series. From left, Mrs. C. Russell Eddy of Duxbury, Mrs. Hart D. Leavitt and Mrs. William A. Munroe of Andover, process some of the invitations.

Mrs. Andrew P. Daly

Daly-Meyers

Mrs. Henry S. Meyers, Jr. of Amherst, Virginia, announces the marriage of her daughter Lucinda Davis Meyers to Andrew Patrick Daly son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leo Daly of Andover.

The wedding ceremony was performed on the summit of Copper Mountain Ski Area, Frisco, Colorado on August 17.

Samuel Meyers of Amherst, Virginia gave his sister away and the bride's mother was her only attendant.

Joseph Leo Daly was best man for his son.

The bride wore a white lace Mexican wedding dress and carried a bouquet of blue delphiniums and yellow and white daisies, tied with yellow satin ribbons.

Mrs. Daly is a graduate of Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, Virginia and is attending graduate school at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Mr. Daly prepared at the Brooks School in North Andover for the University of Pennsylvania where he graduated from the Wharton School.

Mr. and Mrs. Daly are living at the Copper Mountain Ski Area where Mr. Daly is director of ski patrol.

On Dean's List

Robert O. DeBolt of 79 Wildwood Road, Andover, a junior biomedical engineering major at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., has made dean's list for the spring 1974 semester. Approximately 1,400 of RPI's 3,500 undergraduate students earned at least a 3.0 grade average out of a possible 4.0.

Flea Mart At YWCA Saturday

OBITUARIES

E. DEWEY DYER

E. Dewey Dyer, 76, Sunset Drive, Hampstead, N.H., died Thursday, Sept. 12 at Hale Hospital, Haverhill, following a short illness.

A builder and developer in Greater Lawrence until his retirement, he attended North Andover schools, and lived there until moving to New Hampshire two years ago.

He attended St. Ann's Church in Hampstead.

He is survived by his wife, Rose Alma (Desjardins) Dyer; two sons, Dewey A. of Lake Forest, Ill., and Paul G. of North Andover; two daughters, Mrs. Patricia R., wife of Dr. James McPhail of Hattisburg, Miss., and Mrs. Pauline T., wife of Dr. Richard Grey of Southboro; and 15 grandchildren.

A funeral Mass was offered Monday, 9:30 a.m. at St. Ann's Church, Hampstead, N.H. Burial was in Holy Angels Cemetery, Plaistow, N.H.

FREMONT R. BASSETT

Fremont R. Bassett, 84, 109 Elm St., Andover, died suddenly at his home Thursday, Sept. 12.

Formerly of Raymond, Maine, he was born in Island Falls, Maine in 1890.

Prior to retirement he was self-employed as a mechanic.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Robert H. DeHart of Andover; a son, Paul E. of Reading; four sisters, Mrs. Nadine Russman of Somerville, Mrs. Althea Schneider of Orange, Mrs. Myrtle Neild of Colorado and Hazel of Barre, Vt.

A private funeral service was held. Cremation was in Harmony Grove Cemetery, Salem.

MRS. BERTHA THORNTON

Mrs. Bertha (White) Thornton died September 11 in St. Petersburg, Florida at age 90.

Mrs. Thornton, widow of E. Burke Thornton, was a former employee of the Town of Andover, having served as Matron of the Town Infirmary from 1929 through 1945, at which time Mrs. Thornton and her husband took up permanent residence in St. Petersburg, Florida.

MRS. ANN DORAN

Mrs. Ann (Weidig) Doran, 50, wife of John F. Doran, 39 Clark Road, Andover, died Tuesday at Lawrence General Hospital, following a long illness.

She was a member of Christ Episcopal Church.

She is survived by her husband, John F. Doran; a daughter, Susan L. Doran of Andover; a son, Kenneth R. Doran of Andover; her mother, Mrs. J.K. Weidig of Cocoa Beach, Fla.; two brothers, J. Peter Weidig of Cocoa Beach, Fla. and David P. Weidig of Stamford, Conn.

The funeral will be at 9:30 a.m. today at Christ Episcopal Church, Andover. A committal service will be held at 3:30 p.m. in Woodland Cemetery, Stamford, Conn.

Gifts in her memory may be sent to the Ann W. Doran

Memorial Fund, Christ Episcopal Church, Andover.

Cecilia Society Concerts

The Cecilia Society, Donald Teeters conductor, announces its 99th season, a series of four concerts at Sanders Theatre, Cambridge.

The Society, assisted by members of the Cambridge Festival Orchestra, will open the season on Oct. 25 with a concert performance of Handel's pastoral Masque, Acis and Galatea.

On Dec. 21, the Society will present a Christmas concert, featuring three settings of the ancient Christmas hymn, O Magnum Mysterium by Vittoria Palestrina and Byrd. Completing the program will be the Four Motets for Christmas of Poulenc, Bach's double-chorus motet, Komm, Jesu, Komm and other choral works.

The third concert of the season, on March 1, will include performances of Schutz's Musicalische Exequien, the Stravinsky Mass, and Gesualdo's Tres Sacrae Cantiones, completed by Stravinsky. To round out the series, the Society will present a concert May 17 of German choral lieder, including works of Mendelssohn, Schubert, Schumann and Brahms.

All performances begin at 8:30 p.m. Subscriptions are available by mail from The Cecilia Society, 1773 Beacon St., Brookline 02146.

Leong In Cast

David Stuart Leong of Andover, is a member of the cast of "Anything Goes," which will be produced by the Theatre of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Sept. 26 - Oct. 6.

Leong, the son of Mrs. Vivienne H.A. Leong of 191 Shawsheen Road, is a graduate student at UNC-G and is cast as a cameraman in this production.

He has appeared in theater productions at the University of New Hampshire and at UNC.

Martina Arroyo To Open '74-'75 Celebrity Series

Four major concert programs will highlight the 1974-75 Celebrity Series at Merrimack College.

Featured artists in the 1974-75 Celebrity Series, now in its sixth season, will include: Metropolitan Opera soprano Martina Arroyo, the Roger Wagner Chorale, the New York Brass Quintet, and the Italian tenor Giuseppe Campora. All four concerts will be performed in Merrimack's Collegiate Chapel and will begin at 8:30 p.m. on scheduled Sunday evenings throughout the 1974-75 academic year.

Martina Arroyo, the acclaimed soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, will begin this year's Celebrity Series on Sunday, Oct. 13 at 8:30 p.m. She made her Carnegie Hall debut in 1958 in the American premiere of Pizzetti's opera, "Murder in the Cathedral." She was subsequently engaged by the Metropolitan Opera and has been acclaimed there in a variety of roles ranging from the heroines of "Aida" and "Madam Butterfly" to Elizabeth in "Don Carlo."

Miss Arroyo's most recent appearances in the United States have included the highly successful revival of Verdi's "Macbeth" at the Metropolitan Opera. She has appeared at the Metropolitan Opera on two consecutive opening nights in the production of "Ernani" in 1970 and "Don Carlo" in 1971. In Sept., 1973, Miss Arroyo again opened the Metropolitan Opera season as Leonora in "Il Trovatore," a role which she has also recently sung at the London Royal Opera House Covent Garden, and at the Paris Opera.

The second Celebrity Series performance will feature the Roger Wagner Chorale on Sunday, Nov. 17 at 8:30 p.m. Symbolic of the highest achievements in choral art, the Roger Wagner Chorale has appeared in every state in addition to overseas tours in the Middle East, Eastern and Western Europe, South America, Mexico, Canada and Japan.

Currently director of choral activities at the University of California at Los Angeles, Roger Wagner is a guest conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic. His many recordings with the Chorale cover a wide range of music from 16th Century Church music to American folk songs and spirituals as well as works by contemporary composers.

The sound of brass chamber music will fill the Collegiate Chapel on Sunday, Feb. 23 at 8:30 p.m. with the concert performance of the New York Brass Quintet.

Formed 17 years ago, the New York Brass Quintet has brought forth a rebirth of interest in the brass literature of the Renaissance and Baroque periods. Their repertoire also spans brass music into the contemporary time and they have recently commissioned works by Schuller, Morawetz, Perischetti and others. Equally popular in Latin America and Europe as well as the United States, the Quintet regularly performs with many major symphony orchestras and at such leading festivals as Spoleto and Holland.

The Italian tenor Giuseppe Campora will conclude the concert season with a recital on Sunday, April 6 at 8:30 p.m. He has become world-renowned for his interpretations of more than sixty leading roles in virtually every major opera house including the Metropolitan Opera and LaScala. These roles include Don Jose in "Carmen," Faust in "Mephistofele," Edgardo in "Lucia Di Lammermoor," Pinkerton in "Madam Butterfly," and Alfredo in "La Traviata." In addition, he has appeared extensively in concert throughout Europe, North and South America.

A limited number of season tickets are available for the four events. Season tickets are available by mail order only: Celebrity Series, Box 893, Merrimack College, North Andover, 01845. For further information, interested people should contact the college.

Auditions For Youth Pro Musica

This is the time of year to take advantage of a singular choral opportunity for young people in the Greater Boston area - Youth pro Musica, an affiliate of Chorus pro Musica of Boston. Weekly rehearsals are held in Newton, and interested young people are encouraged to attend and arrange an audition with the director, Roberta Humez.

The chorus is made up of girls and boys (unchanged voices), aged 9 to 15, who come from 20 communities. In the four years since its founding it has given 30 performances, four of them on television and seven with adult choruses, for a variety of audiences. The young people prepare and perform interesting music from all eras.

Last season they sang for the National Conference of Orff Schulwerk in Boston and at a shared presentation of Carmina Burana at Phillips Academy in Andover, as well as preparing other programs for churches, schools, museums and other organizations.

Admission to Youth pro Musica is by audition. Singers are judged for accuracy of intonation, independence in part singing, quality of voice and general musicality. Sight-singing is desirable but not essential. There is a need for capable low altos - many of the older boys who joined the group as sopranos have matured into the alto section.

For further information about membership or performance telephone or write to: Roberta Humez, 7 Eisenhower Ave., Natick 01760.

Photo Contest

Amateur photographers in the area, particularly those interested in nature and wildlife, are invited this month to submit some of their color slides and/or prints to the 12th Audubon International Exhibition of Nature Photography. This is a bi-ennial special activity sponsored by the Massachusetts Audubon Society in cooperation with the Massachusetts Camera Naturalists, an amateur group that manages the entire event and produces the resulting Salon to be shown throughout the state later this fall. For a nominal entry fee each photographer may submit up to 4 color slides and 4 prints; the subject matter is not restricted except that it should be entirely natural and unrestrained. Photos of domesticated animals or birds, or cultivated flowers and shrubs, etc., are not eligible, nor are human beings; any man-made object appearing in a photograph should be unobtrusive, at least.

Area photographers wishing to enter may obtain further information and official entry blanks from Camera Naturalists, c/o Gil Fernandez, P.O. Box 53, Dartmouth, Mass. 02714. Early application is advised since closing date for receipt of entries is Oct. 1.

'Show Of Hands' At Gallery

The Phillips Academy teachers and staff value handwork, not just headwork, and if you don't believe it, come to the Addison Gallery Friday night or over the weekend. You'll see rooms filled with Academy families' handcrafts, and you'll be able to watch the craftsmen weave, sculpt, carve, and embroider.

The Phillips Academy community presents "A Show of Hands," an arts-crafts festival which will open with a reception at the Addison Gallery on Friday, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. and continue through Tuesday, Sept. 25. Demonstrations by the craftsmen will take place from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday evening, 2 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, and from 2:30 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Elaine Bailey and Grace Neilson have coordinated this collection of handwork done by the P.A. faculty, staff and their families. Exhibits of clockmaking, weaving, sculpture, stained glass, ceramics, needlepoint, string jewelry and many other forms of handwork make up "A Show of Hands."

Addison Gallery hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays, and from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Sundays. The public is always welcome.

International Pickup '74

SERIES

The smoothest riding pickup we've ever built

This is our new Model 100 series for moderate hauling. We could have aptly called it "easy rider," it's that smooth... that quiet. A totally new independent coil spring front suspension on the two-wheel drive model steps over bumps lightly. The front wheel track is wider by 4 inches to improve roll stability and handling. Rear leaf springs are underslung for a lower center of gravity. And the rear shocks are staggered to reduce "wheel hop," especially when you're driving with a light load. It all works together to produce what we think is one of the smoothest handling pickups on the road.

Phillips Academy teachers staff value handwork, not headwork, and if you don't have it, come to the Addison Gallery Friday night or over the weekend. You'll see rooms filled with Academy families' handwork, and you'll be able to see the craftsmen weave, carve, and embroider. Phillips Academy community presents "A Show of Hands," an arts-crafts festival will open with a reception at the Addison Gallery on Friday, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. and continue through Tuesday, Sept. 25. Demonstrations by the craftsmen will take place from 8 p.m. Friday evening, 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday, and from 2:30 p.m. on Sunday. Elaine Bailey and Grace Johnson have coordinated this exhibition of handwork done by Phillips Academy faculty, staff and their families. Exhibits of clockmaking, weaving, sculpture, stained glass, ceramics, needlepoint, straw weaving and many other crafts of handwork make up "A Show of Hands." Addison Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays, and 2:30 to 5 p.m. Sundays. The gallery is always welcome.

Delicious Baked Goods, Fresh Hourly, At Tripoli Bakery

Delicious fresh baked rolls like those pictured here are always in good supply at Tripoli Bakery, 106 Common Street in Lawrence. Stop by anytime and pick them up, warm and crusty, or for special volume orders, call, place your order and pick them up in time for the event. Tripoli makes Italian hard crust rolls, submarine rolls, lobster, dinner and finger rolls. Simply specify if you wish them sliced.

Keep Tripoli Bakery in mind when planning your next Coffee, Luncheon, Tea or Club Meeting. In addition to rolls for your sandwiches, Tripoli features an excellent selection of pastries and finger foods. They make a complete line of Italian and French cookies and pastries, a choice assortment of doughnuts, cupcakes, fruit turnovers, muffins and pies. Order an assortment in advance for entertaining, or pick up a dozen or two for your family.

Tripoli's specialty, of course, is their crusty Italian bread, baked fresh every hour. The bakers at Tripoli make all their own bread right on the premises, so there is hot bread at all times and it is still made the old fashioned way, with no shortcuts or substitutes. You won't be able to resist a loaf or two when you open the door and smell those fresh baked loaves!

For special occasions, Tripoli always stocks birthday and anniversary cakes, in 3 sizes, all decorated and ready to personalize with any name requested. Special orders may also be accepted by phone.

Children in the Andover schools have been enjoying Tripoli rolls and pizza for years; why not let the whole family in on their full range of bakery treats. 106 Common Street, Lawrence. Pizza Shop open weekends only.

Counsel Urges Open Platform Henceforth

James Murphy, the school committee's special counsel in the Lane-open meeting case, Tuesday night urged the committee to conduct all future meetings "from this open platform" and insist on documentation.

"The safe, healthy American course," he said, would be to have all meetings open, except in the case where it might affect a child of "tender years," which he subsequently defined as "under 18."

Murphy's report came on the heels of a Superior Court ruling last Tuesday which reversed an earlier decision, and cited violations, while made "in good faith," of the open meeting law. Committeeman William Lane had brought the suit, asking the court to enjoin the committee from conducting secret sessions, and to adjudge null and void a censure of him allegedly made at one of those sessions.

In his decision, Judge Paul K. Connolly ordered Committee members John Lyons, John Wragg and George Olesen to hold open meetings, post them publicly, and maintain public records.

While not himself named in the decision, Chairman Francis Griggs said Tuesday night that he would not participate in executive sessions in the future, and that he would be making a motion to that effect.

"If this committee goes into executive session," he said, "it will go without me."

In the new ruling, Judge Connolly also found that no vote of censure of Lane had been taken by the Committee, and that no censure was noted in the committee's records.

He said that Lyons, Olesen and Wragg had not considered their gatherings in violation of the open meeting law as interpreted to them by Town Counsel. They had acted, he said, "in good faith" and "at all times in what they considered to be in the best interests of the Town of Andover."

On the other hand, he said, "designed, secret gatherings at which decisions are made as to official action to be taken at a future, formal meeting are in violation of the statute. In this situation, the real meeting is the secret gathering and the formal open meeting merely confirms and ratifies the action taken in secret and is a sham as far as the public is concerned."

However, the ruling went on: "It is unreasonable to expect in any community, particularly one the size of Andover, that when members of boards see one another on occasion, accidentally or by design, they will not discuss with one another a subject in which they have a common interest, in this case the local school system. These gatherings are not 'meetings' within the meaning of the statute."

Any restraint attempted in this area," he went on, might well be in violation of the First Amendment.

Murphy also urged the committee Tuesday night to keep open public records in the superintendent's office, and to let him be responsible for posting.

"Make sure that none of your members or administrators ever puts you in the position of doing the School Committee's business in a corner," he said. "Nothing will you ever need fear," he said, "if you do it in the open in public, before the people who elected you."

The open meeting law was intended, he said, to correct problems other groups had "before you were even elected," in keeping the press from reporting to people the actions taken of their elected officials.

He also urged the committee to consider hiring a counsel of its own. John Wragg's subsequent motion to that effect received no second and Griggs called it "premature."

However, Griggs said, some of the points would be further considered at future meetings.

Merchants Midyear Meeting

The Andover Center Merchants of the Andover Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring its Mid-Year promotional planning meeting at the Elks Lodge, 404 South Main Street, (formerly Fieldstones) on Thursday, Oct. 3.

The meeting, headed by Chairman Paul J. Gmyrek, will review the past year's activities of the Central Business District with comments on the continuation of the more successful programs and suggestions of changes on other activities. The second half of the business portion will concentrate on the next six months proposals of retail activities.

Special emphasis will be given to the many fall programs and to the Christmas season, such as store hours, decorations, choral groups, etc. The social hour will begin at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served promptly at 7 p.m., the business meeting will follow.

At this meeting Mrs. Beatrice Collins and Frank J. McBride will give public relations highlights of the Andover Chamber of Commerce. Reservations can be made by calling the Chamber office.

The committee organizing this event headed by Paul Gmyrek consists of: H. Charles Heseltine, Christine Cavallaro, Douglas Thompson, Alex Milne and Jeff French.

Final Day To Register For Town Meeting

The board of registrars of voters will be in session Monday from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the town house to register new voters to be eligible to participate in the Oct. 7 town meeting. This will be the final day for eligibility for the town meeting.

Final day for registration for the November election is Oct. 8. The board of registrars will be in special session on Thursday, Sept. 26 at the Ballard Vale United Church and Peabody House, Phillips Academy, for registration of new voters for the state congressional election, Nov. 5.

School Board

personnel assistant at Raytheon in Newton from 1958 to 1963, and taught at the Surrey County Council, England, from 1955 to 1958.

Mrs. Jacqueline DeGregorio will be a teacher aide at South School, replacing Mrs. Claire Berkwith, who resigned. A graduate of Searles High School, Methuen, she was an arts and crafts teacher at the Andover "Y" last year, and previously worked as a clerk-typist for Raytheon.

Janet Fichera will be a half-time kindergarten teacher at West Elementary, making it 2½ kindergarten teachers there to serve 90 pupils. She received her B.S. from Salem State College in 1972, and taught second grade at St. Patrick's School, Lawrence, last year. She conducted the pre-kindergarten program at Shawsheen School in 1972, and did her practice-teaching at Shawsheen kindergarten and Unit A in 1972.

Mrs. Natalie Gilbert will be a parttime language disabilities teacher at Bancroft, replacing Mrs. Finegold who transferred to West Jr. High. Mrs. Gilbert received her B.S. from Boston University in 1956 and was in Andover's L.D. and Math Disabilities Programs in 1972 and 73. She was a half-time teacher at Shawsheen's Unit A during the spring term, 1973, and previously taught third grade in Newton and second grade in Brookline.

Edith Lorine will be an instructional aide in the art department at West Jr. High, replacing Mrs. Meagher who resigned. Currently a student at Tufts University, working towards her BFA degree, Miss Loring attended the Academy of Fine Arts in Florence, Italy, in 1968-69, and Boston Museum School, 1970-73. She was a bilingual aide in the Boston Title I in the summer of 1973, and was an assistant teacher at the Boston Museum School in 1972-73.

Mrs. Mary Aram's and Mrs. Janet Scheerer's appointments are contingent upon receipt of Title VI-B funds from the state.

Mrs. Aram will be a half-time math disabilities teacher at South School, having transferred from West Elementary, where she has been a primary level teacher since 1971. She received her B.S. degree from the University of Rochester in 1956, and attended Andover's language and math disabilities programs in 1971 and 72. She previously taught fifth grade in Saugus, first and second grades in Birmingham, Ala., and first grade in Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Scheerer will be a half-time math disabilities teacher at South School, in the Title VI-B program. She received her B.S. from Syracuse University in 1959.

Merit

Miss White, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril M. White, 28 Karlton Circle, is planning to major in English when she enters college next year.

The Merit Program Semifinalists were the highest scorers in each state on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), administered to over one million students in about 17,000 schools nationwide. The Semifinalists, most of whom will complete high school and enter college in 1975, will be identified to regionally accredited U. S. colleges and universities. Many Semifinalists find this recognition useful in gaining admission to the college of their choice and in obtaining financial aid.

Fires

The Kirk fire completely destroyed the barn and the horses inside and the Stempel house blaze caused considerable damage throughout the building.

In the case of the Charlotte Drive fire, it appears that an acetylene torch was used to start the house on fire in the rear of the property. It was discovered quickly and the damage was not severe.

At the Kirk fire, a severed telephone line is a prime source of the investigation.

Detective Mooers said that the overall investigation of the four fires is based in a some aspects of each being related.

Particularly significant is the fact that they have been started or found late night, or early morning hours and the manner and area in which ignition has taken place is similar.

The fires have been on weekends, also.

budgetary controls, and a "back to basics" campaign.

Committeeman John Lyons said he was "shocked" at the resignation, while George Olesen commented that what's really important is if one can go to sleep at night, "knowing that you've tried."

Seifert said Wednesday he was "very sorry" that Wragg hadn't communicated his sentiments "directly to me." Anytime a person has something to say about someone, Seifert said, "he should say it personally first."

Seifert also said there was "no question that Mr. Wragg was a very hard-working School Committee member."
